ATLANTA DREAM CLINCH PLAYOFF BERTH WITH WIN IN REGULAR-SEASON FINALE

- ATLANTA JOURNAL-CONSTITUTION

The Atlanta Dream will stay in New York.

This is not a sightseeing trip. They are in the WNBA playoffs.

The Atlanta Dream earned a rematch with the New York Liberty, this in the postseason, with a 78-67 victory Thursday night at the Barclays Center. The Dream clinched the No. 8 seed with the win, the final playoff spot undetermined.

The Dream will open the best-of-three playoff series on Sunday against the No. 1 seeded Liberty at 1 p.m. on ESPN. Game 2 will also be in New York on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on ESPN. Should a Game 3 be necessary, it will be in Atlanta on Thursday on ESPN2. Game time is to be determined.

The Dream led by as many as 20 points, that in the second half, and held off a late Liberty charge. The win meant the results of games involving the Chicago Sky and Washington Mystics simply did not matter. The Dream finished 15-25. They held a one-game lead over the Sky and Mystics enter the final day of the regular season. The Sky lost to the Connecticut Sun, 87-54, and the Mystics defeated the Indiana Fever, 92-91.

The game featured two milestones for the Dream's Tina Charles, who finished with 10 points and 10 rebounds. She set the WNBA record for career rebounds (4,014) and double-doubles (193).

Charles passed five-time All-WNBA First Team selection Sylvia Fowles on both lists to set the career mark. Over Fowles' decorated 15-year career, she grabbed 4,006 rebounds and secured 193 double-doubles.

Charles also made franchise history, breaking Erika de Souza's single-season double-double record of 18 and became the first Dream player to ever put up more than 500 points and 300 rebounds in a single season.

Rhyne Howard and Naz Hillmon led the Dream with 13 points apiece. Allisha Gray added 10 points.

Breanna Stewart led the Liberty (32-8) with 16 points. This is the Dream's second consecutive playoff appearance under head coach Tanisha Wright, who led the team to a first-round battle in last year's playoffs against the Dallas Wings.

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Atlanta Dream Clinch Berth in 2024 WNBA Playoffs
(September 19) – The Atlanta Dream clinched the final spot in the 2024 WNBA Playoffs with a 78-67 win over the New York Liberty Thursday. The eight-seed Dream will stay in New York to play the top-seeded Liberty in a best-of-three series, with the first two games in New York and, if required, game three in Atlanta.

This is the Dream's second consecutive playoff appearance under head coach Tanisha Wright, who led the team to a first-round battle in last year's playoffs against the Dallas Wings. The Dream last qualified for back-to-back postseasons in 2013 and 2014. Atlanta has made three WNBA Finals appearances and seven Conference Finals appearances since 2010.

The 2024 WNBA Playoffs are set to begin on Sept. 22, with the top eight teams in the league competing in a best-of-three series. The winners of each first-round series will advance to a best-of-five semifinal round, and the winners of each seminal round series will then advance to the WNBA Finals, another best-of-five series.

Led by its big three of two-time WNBA All-Star and Olympian Rhyne Howard, 2024 WNBA All-Star Allisha Gray and WNBA record-holder Tina Charles, the Dream opened the second half of the season on a three-game winning streak. The start thrust the Atlanta roster to become one of the league's most competitive teams after the Olympic break.

Charles powered the squad through the stretch with her experience and production, breaking records and making history in nearly every game since the season resumed in August. In addition to claiming the league's rebound and double-double records, the center recorded her and the franchise's first-ever triple-double three weeks ago. Two weeks before that, she claimed the No. 2 spot on the WNBA's All-Time Scoring List. She's also claimed both the franchise single season records for rebounding and double-doubles.

Tina Charles Moves to First on WNBA's Total Rebounds, Double-Doubles Lists
(September 19) – Atlanta Dream center Tina Charles continued to put her fingerprints on history as she became the WNBA's career leader in total rebounds and double-doubles during Thursday night's game against the New York Liberty. Prior to the game, she was inducted into the New York City Basketball Hall of Fame

Charles passed five-time All-WNBA First Team selection Sylvia Fowles on both lists to set the career mark. Over Fowles' decorated 15-year career, she grabbed 4,006 rebounds and secured 193 double-doubles.

A 14-year member of the league, Charles joined the Dream as a free agent in February, and the first overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft has continued to add to her storied career. In addition to league records, Charles has made franchise history, breaking Érika de Souza's single-season double-double record of 18 and becoming the first Dream player to ever put up more than 500 points and 300 rebounds in a single season.

These accolades come during a historic season for the league veteran. On Aug. 16, Charles recorded her 3,000th career field goal against the Seattle Storm, where she scored a game-winning shot to cap off a 16-point performance. Less than a week later, she passed forward Tina Thompson for No. 2 on the WNBA All-Time Scoring List in front of a home crowd, converting a layup against the Phoenix Mercury on Aug. 21.

On Aug. 28, Charles became the first Dream player to ever record a triple-double with the first of her career, totaling 19 points, 17 rebounds and 10 assists in nearly 38 minutes of play. She cemented her name as only the 18th WNBA player in history to record a triple-double. Notably, all of her career double-doubles have come from the point and rebound statistical categories.

The 2012 WNBA Most Valuable Player has received nine All-WNBA First- and Second-Team Selections during her career. An eight-time WNBA All-Star, Charles was named to four All-Defensive Teams and three U.S. Olympic Teams where she earned gold medals in 2012, 2016 and 2021. Charles was unanimously selected as the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year with the Connecticut Sun before stints with the Seattle Storm, Phoenix Mercury, Washington Mystics and New York Liberty.

Atlanta Dream sign Ezinne Kalu to Hardship Contract
(September 18) – The Atlanta Dream have signed guard Ezinne Kalu to a end of season hardship contract, the organization announced today.

The 5'8" guard brings a wealth of international experience, most recently leading the 2024 Nigerian Olympic team past the group stage in Paris earlier this year. Kalu averaged 18.5 points per game in Paris, ranking her fourth in the category, behind only Emma Meesseman (BEL), A'ja Wilson (USA), and Satou Sabally (GER). Kalu's standout performance came against Australia, where she led D'Tigress to an upset win, scoring 19 points, with five assists, five rebounds, and three steals.

Charles ties Fowles, poised to make history once more
(September 17) – In the Atlanta Dream's double-digit victory over Chicago on September 17, Tina Charles tallied her 20th double-double of the 2024 season, bringing her career total to 193 to tie Sylvia Fowles for the most career double-doubles in WNBA history.

With a 16-point, 14-rebound performance, Charles is also just three rebounds away from surpassing Fowles' WNBA career rebound record.

The center also eclipsed 4,000 career rebounds with her tenth rebound of the night against the Sky. She is now the first player ever to reach 4000+ career rebounds and 7000+ career points, and one of two players in WNBA history to reach the rebounding milestone.

Atlanta Dream Sell Out All 2024 Home Games, break franchise history with 20 home sellouts
(September 17) –The Atlanta Dream announced that with Tuesday night's sellout against the Chicago Sky, the franchise has sold out all 20 of its home games in the 2024 season.

The feat marks the first time in franchise history that Atlanta has sold out all of its home games. More than 3,250 fans filled Gateway Center Arena on 18 different occasions, and Dream fans packed State Farm Arena over capacity two times this season.

The 2024 season continued an uptick in sellouts for the franchise. In 2023, Atlanta led the WNBA in sellouts, packing Gateway Center Arena 12 times, which outpaced the Dream's eight sellouts in 2022, the second-most in the league. In April, the Dream became only the second WNBA franchise to sell out its allotment for season tickets, breaking franchise records for single-game ticket sales in the process.

Tina Charles within reach of two historic milestones
(September 15) – With two games remaining in the WNBA regular season, Tina Charles is 17 rebounds and 2 double-doubles away from claiming the No. 1 spot in WNBA History for both milestones. Currently, Sylvia Fowles owns both but as Charles and the Dream head into the final stretch of the season.

Howard goes 3-for-3
(September 8) – Rhyne Howard put up her third consecutive game with 30+ points against Indiana on September 8, this time going for another season-high of 36 points with five assists, four rebounds and one steal.

She now owns the franchise record for the most points scored by any Atlanta Dream player over a three-game span with 100. Angel McCoughtry previously held the record with 95 points in the 2011 season.

The guard also became just the third player in WNBA history to have 30+ PTS and 4+ 3PM in 3 consecutive games.

Howard and Dream survive Wings in overtime thriller, 107-96
(September 6) –The Atlanta Dream overcame a 16-point deficit to defeat the Wings by 11 points in the team's first overtime game of the 2024 season. Led by Rhyne Howard's season-high of 33-points, all five starters scored for the first time this season to reach the most scored in a game by Atlanta this year.

The win improves Atlanta's record to 12-22 overall and 7-10 at home.

Howard tallied 33 points, three rebounds, six assists and one steal, going 12-for-26 from the field and 6-for-17 from 3-point range. She became the first Dream player since Angel McCoughtry in 2013 to put up consecutive 30+ point performances, as she dropped 31 against Phoenix on September 3.

The all-around effort saw several season and career achievements for the Dream. Tina Charles marked her sixteenth double-double of the season with 20 points and 13 rebounds, claiming No. 2 in Dream Franchise history for most double-doubles in a single season.

Forward Naz Hillmon also notched a career-high with 18 points on the night, paired with eight rebounds. The forward went 6-for-7 from the field and 6-for-10 from the free throw line.

And last but not least, guard Jordin Canada recorded her first double-double of her Dream career with 15 points and a season-high 10 assists.

Charles becomes one of one, continues to break history
(August 28) –Tina Charles put on a dominant performance against Seattle on August 28, marking a historic day for both herself and the Dream. With 19 points, 17 rebounds and 10 assists, she became the first player in franchise history to record a triple double with the first of her career, cementing her name as only the 18th WNBA player to ever record a triple double.

"I just give glory to God," Charles said postgame. "Where I was last year, where I am now, back in the WNBA. I just thank my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I'm just very thankful. I wish we came out with the win, but at this age in my career, I'm just taken aback. Very emotional about it, but it's just God."

She became the first player in WNBA history to record 15+ points, 15+ rebounds, 10+ assists and 4+ steals in a single game. The center also marked her 13th double-double of the season in the third quarter, passing Dream great Érika de Souza's 2009 season (12) for fourth in Dream history for most double-doubles in a season. de Souza also owns both the No. 1 & No. 2 spots.

Charles' 17 rebounds were a league-high for the night (8/28), as she tied her season-high in a game for rebounds, tied her career-high in assists and tied her season-high in a game with four steals.

(August 21) –Powered by another dominant second half performance, the Dream continued its undefeated streak since returning from the Olympic Break with a 72-63 victory over the Phoenix Mercury at Gateway Center.

Atlanta's record improves to 10-17 overall and 6-8 at home.

Rhyne Howard followed with 19 points, three assists, two rebounds and one steal. The guard surpassed 1,500 career points to become one of seven players in Dream franchise history to reach the milestone.

Tina Charles advanced to No. 2 on the WNBA's All-Time Scoring List, passing Tina Thompson with a three-pointer in the fourth quarter. The center marked her eleventh double-double of the season with 12 points and season-high 17 rebounds in addition to the legendary milestone.

The Dream offense wasted no time finding its momentum as the game began, going on a 17-4 run while holding Phoenix scoreless for almost six full minutes in the first. Atlanta's defense limited the visitors to shooting just 13.3% from the field, resulting in a new season-low in points scored for a quarter by Phoenix.

After a Phoenix run, Atlanta rallied to score 10 of the 11 final points in the second quarter, fueled by Gray and Howard who produced 14 of the 15 Dream points in the second. Going into the second half, the Dream held onto its lead, 34-26.

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Charles ignited the fourth quarter by hitting the All-time milestone just seconds into the final stanza. Immediately after the Dream surged onto a 11-0 run that then swelled into a 21-4 run.

Tina Charles Moves to Second on WNBA All-Time Scoring List
(August 21) – Atlanta Dream center Tina Charles moved to second place on the WNBA's All-Time Leading Scoring list during Wednesday's game against the Phoenix Mercury. Charles passed forward Tina Thompson with a three-pointer in the fourth quarter.

A 12-year member of the league, Charles joined the Dream as a free agent in February, and the first overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft has continued to add to her storied career. Thompson previously held the second spot on the table with 7,488 points, but Charles eclipsed that total in 417 games, outpacing Thompson by 79 games.

"Tina's game is truly timeless," said Atlanta Dream General Manager Dan Padover. "Having witnessed over 3500 of Tina's points firsthand what has always impressed me most is her consistency. From the moment she stepped into the league in 2010, Tina has been the ultimate competitor, pushing to give everything she had night in and night out. Tina is obviously a once in a WNBA history talent but her ability to show up in every single game she played in is why she is reaching this historic WNBA milestone"

During her 2024 campaign, Charles averages 14 points, 8.4 rebounds per game and recorded 10 double-doubles on the season. Starting all 26 games this season, Charles has scored in double-digits in 20 games, leading the Dream in scoring on six occasions. On Aug. 16, Charles recorded her 3,000th career field goal against the Seattle Storm, where she scored a game-winning shot to cap off a 16-point performance.

Charles tallied her nearly 7,500 points with stops in Connecticut, New York, Phoenix, Seattle and Washington. She has scored more than 30 points in 23 games during her career, and she ranks second all-time with 78 games scoring 25 or more points. She trails only Diana Taurasi (10,497, 553 games) on the All-Time Scoring list.

The 2012 WNBA Most Valuable Player has received nine All-WNBA Selections, including five First-Team nominations. An eight-time WNBA All-Star, Charles was named to four All-Defensive Teams and three US Olympic Teams where she earned gold medals in 2012, 2016 and 2021. Charles was unanimously selected as the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year.

The duo produced all the Dream offense in the final minutes of the third quarter to give the Dream a 7-point lead going into the final quarter.

After the Sun reclaimed the lead 63-68, the Dream burst onto a 19-2 run jump started with a Gray and-one, and Gray went on to score seven of her 11 points in the fourth quarter alone.

The Dream's record improves to 8-17 overall and 4-8 at home.

Trailing by double-digits going into the second half, Howard put up 14 points in the third quarter alone to jump-start a Dream comeback that saw the group go on a 15-6 run in the third quarter and a 21-9 run in the fourth quarter.

Allisha Gray and Jordin Canada combined for 17 of the Dream's 28 fourth-quarter points to preserve the Atlanta lead in the final stretch. With under 30 seconds left to play, the guards each went 2-for-2 at the free throw line.

Seattle's Jewell Lloyd responded with a 27-foot 3-pointer to tie the game at 81-81 with four seconds left to play.

With 1.8 seconds remaining, Canada found Charles in sideline out-of-bounds action. The center then sank the game-winning field goal with a jumper on the block as the clock ran out.

Rhyne Howard Wants to Uphold the Gold Standard
By Hayden Cilley, USA Basketball

If you asked first-time Olympian Rhyne Howard whether she wanted to play for USA Basketball's 3x3 Women's National Team or 5x5 Women's National Team, she would say there was no preference on what team she ended up on.

"I just wanted to go and compete and be able to say I'm an Olympian," Howard said. "3x3 is really fun. We were only on the first day, but you can tell that there's already chemistry with us, really intimate and it's something that not everybody gets to say that they can do. Just being able to have this so early in my career is a blessing."

Now in her third year in the WNBA, Howard's career has been nothing short of impressive, both professionally and internationally with USA Basketball. With the 2024 USA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournament Team, Howard averaged a team-best 19.5 points, along with 4.5 rebounds and 1.5 steals in 16.5 minutes per game.

Howard shines in Inagural WNBA All-Star 3x3 exhibition

Allisha Gray becomes first-ever player to win both WNBA Kia Skills Challenge and Starry 3-Point Contest
Atlanta Dream guard and two-time WNBA All-Star Allisha Gray became the first player in WNBA history to win both the WNBA Kia Skills Challenge and Starry 3-Point Contest in the same night at WNBA All-Star weekend.

"The competitor in me wanted [Jonquel Jones] to miss of course," Gray told ESPN after her victory in the 3-Point Contest. "But the person in me, I like to see other people be successful as well, so with her winning I'd still be just as happy." The guard also becomes the first Dream player to win a WNBA All-Star event in franchise history.

Gray first participated against Sophie Cunningham, Brittney Griner, Marina Mabrey and Kelsey Mitchell in the Kia Skills Challenge. Gray and Cunningham advanced to the final round after finishing the first round with a time of 31.2 and 35.5 seconds, respectively.

Gray, winning with a time of 32.1 seconds, beat out Cunningham's time of 34.5 seconds in the final round to become the 2024 champion.

"I started so fast, so it gave me a little padding on the end," Gray told ESPN. "It was all a part of the strategy, because I knew the second time around I would be a little fatigued from the shots, so I had to make my passes accurate."

Soon after, Gray took on Stefanie Dolson, Jonquel Jones, Marina Mabrey and Kayla McBride in the STARRY® 3-Point Contest.

Gray opened the first round with a score of 23, going 3-for-5 from the money ball rack. Jones finished with a score of 26, and both advanced to the final round. Gray went first in the final round, where she went 3-for-5 again from the money ball rack to finish with a final score of 22. Jones fell just one shot short of Gray with a score of 21.

Meet Allisha Gray, The WNBA's Southern Superstar
By Toby Adeyemi, ESSENCE

On a weekend when all the stars of the WNBA descended on Phoenix, none shined brighter than Georgia's finest, Allisha Gray.

Gray was named an All-Star for the second consecutive year, an honor that's become regular since she was traded to the Atlanta Dream two seasons ago. When Gray received the news, she was ecstatic. "I was playing video games when I first got the call that Dallas was trading me to Atlanta, but I just remember being super happy," she tells ESSENCE.

That joy was for good reason, because Gray was finally going home—well as close to home as possible. She grew up in Sandersville, a small town in Washington County located about two hours south of Atlanta. The opportunity to play in front of her friends and family was the thing Gray was looking forward to the most.

"Playing in my home state has been a blessing," she explained. "I get to see my parents every home game. That's super exciting because I didn't have that opportunity in Texas."

All-Star Allisha Gray has found freedom and joy with the Atlanta Dream
By Wilton Jackson, The Next

ATLANTA — Allisha Gray never stops moving. Even as Atlanta Dream head coach Tanisha Wright breaks down an intricate set for a screen and the roles of each wing cutter at the top of the key, the 6′ guard is already mentally scheming the movements to her spot. The veteran hopes to aid the Dream (7-17) in a game against the Las Vegas Aces that evening.

Gray's energy and passion won't allow her to be still. Those two catalysts sit at the core of her basketball DNA, along with her rich Southern accent. "The first time I met her, I said, 'Girl, you are from the country,'" Dream guard Haley Jones told The Next.

At the right wing, Gray — donning clear protective goggles — puts the play in motion. She sets a back screen near the right elbow and cuts to the opposite elbow to field a pass from Jones. In a blink, Gray dribbles once to her left before leaping to finish the left-handed layup.
