MATCHUP QUICK HITS

Sunday's matchup of the 2023 WNBA Semifinals marks the New York Liberty's 11th all-time postseason meeting against the Connecticut Sun and Game 4 of their best-of-five series.

In the postseason, New York is 4-6 (.400) against Connecticut, with this series marking their first postseason showdown since the Sun outlasted the Liberty in the Semifinals of the 2012 WNBA Playoffs.

Against the Sun, the Liberty are 45-48 (.484) in their all-time regular season series, having swept their four-game series in 2023.

In the First Round, New York became the first team in WNBA history to have four players average 18-plus points per game in any playoff series.

Over the last quarter of the regular season, New York boasted the best record in the league, 8-2, and led the league in assists (23.0) and three-pointers made (11.0) per game. They lead the league in field goal percentage (46.9) while ranking second in scoring (91.3) and rebounds (36.8).

During the same stretch, New York sat atop the W in offensive (113.0) and net ratings (13.7). Their 13.7 first-placed net rating was 5.2 more than second-placed Las Vegas over this span.

The Liberty last played the Sun on September 29, 2023, at Mohegan Sun Arena, where New York capitalized on a 37-16 first quarter to ultimately defeat Connecticut, 92-81, in Game 3 of their 2023 WNBA Semifinals series, securing its first playoff wire-to-wire victory since September 20, 2015.

New York's 37-point first quarter set a franchise postseason quarterly scoring record, tied the WNBA first-quarter scoring record, and tied for the second-highest-scoring quarter ever in WNBA postseason history.

In that game, the 2023 Kia WNBA Most Valuable Player, Breanna Stewart, finished with a game-high 25 points on 57.9% (11-19) shooting from the floor, 11 rebounds, two assists, and two blocks, marking the eighth double-double of her postseason career.

Betnijah Laney totaled 20 points on 53.3% (8-15) shooting from the field, including 40% (2-5) from deep, a postseason career-high-tying eight rebounds, and four assists. She has scored 19-plus points in four of the Liberty's five games this postseason.

Highlighted by three first-quarter threes on 75% (3-4) shooting from deep, Sabrina Ionescu finished with 16 points on 54.5% (6-11) shooting from the field, including 57.1% (4-7) from three-point range, five assists, and three rebounds.

Courtney Vandersloot added 12 points and a team-high seven assists.

Notching the 15th double-double of her postseason career and league-leading fifth double-double this postseason, Jonquel Jones finished with 10 points on 50% (4-8) shooting from the field, including 50% (1-2) from three, a game-high 12 rebounds, and two assists.

Including last game's performance, Jones has recorded a double-double in all five of the Liberty's games this postseason, tying the WNBA postseason record for the most consecutive double-doubles to open a postseason.

Her five double-doubles this postseason is a franchise single-postseason record and ties the franchise career-postseason double-double record.

For Connecticut, Alyssa Thomas finished with a team-high 23 points, a game-high 14 assists, and nine rebounds, while Tiffany Hayes added 16 points, six rebounds, and two assists.

This regular season, Breanna Stewart finished second in the W in scoring (23.0), third in rebounding (9.3), fourth in blocks (1.6), and eighth in steals (1.5). She was the only player leaguewide to average at least 1.5 steals and 1.5 blocks per game.

Having already eclipsed the all-time WNBA season-season scoring record and Liberty's single-season franchise records for points and rebounds this season, Stewart, the 2023 Kia WNBA Most Valuable Player, ended the season having tied the franchise single-season double-double record (20) and blocked the second-most shots in a single season in franchise history.

Sabrina Ionescu finished the regular season as the only player leaguewide who averaged 16-plus points, five-plus rebounds, and five-plus assists per game.

She topped the WNBA in three-pointers made (128), the most threes in a season in WNBA history. On July 28, Ionescu also became the only player in WNBA history with four games of seven-plus made threes in a single season, having had four such games thus far in 2023.

Further, the fourth-year guard ranked third in three-point percentage (44.8), setting an all-time WNBA record for single-season three-point field goal percentage (min. 200 attempts). Having shot 33.3% from deep in 2022, she also set a WNBA record for a single-season increase in three-point percentage from the prior season (min. 150 attempts).

Courtney Vandersloot led the league in assists per game (8.1), finishing as the 2023 Peak Performer in Assists and second in total assists with a career-high and single-season franchise record 314 assists.

After the All-Star Break, Jonquel Jones averaged 12.2 points, 10.3 rebounds, and 2.1 assists per game on 52.0% shooting from the field, including ten games of double-figure rebounds and nine double-doubles.

Her 10.3 rebounds per game lead the W over this span, while her 3.0 offensive rebounds per game and nine double-doubles since the break ranked second and fourth, respectively, league-wide.

Comparatively, during her 2021 MVP campaign, she averaged 16.3 points, 9.8 rebounds, of which 2.5 were offensive, and 3.3 assists per game on 45.8% shooting from the field.

This season, New York led the W in assists per game (24.1)—the second-highest average in WNBA history, assist percentage (75.0), and assist ratio (20.5).

New York also topped the WNBA in three-pointers made (444), the first and only team in WNBA history to make 400-plus threes in a season.

Including their second-ranked marks in scoring (89.2) and rebounding (37.9), the Liberty were the only team this season to rank in the top three across per-game points, rebounds, and assists—all single-season franchise records.

They were also second in offensive rating (109.6), net rating (10.3), field goal percentage (46.0), free throw percentage (82.9), and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.70).

Jonquel Jones spent the first six seasons of her career with the Sun (2016–22), where she made two WNBA Finals (2022, 2019), won the 2021 WNBA MVP, 2018 Sixth Woman of the Year, and 2017 Most Improved Player. In 196 games with Connecticut, including 149 starts, she averaged 13.6 points, 8.3 rebounds, and 1.4 blocks in 24.8 minutes per game.

Benitjah Laney appeared in 29 games for Connecticut in 2018 and averaged 2.7 points and 1.7 rebounds in 9.3 minutes per game, featuring game-highs of 11 points and six rebounds against Seattle on July 1. That season, her 47.1% shooting percentage was a career-best—later eclipsed by her 48.1% field goal percentage during her Most Improved Player award-winning season with Atlanta in 2020.

Bec Allen spent the first seven seasons of her career with the Liberty (2015–22), during which she averaged 5.7 points, including 36.9% shooting from three, and 2.5 rebounds in 158 games, including 40 starts.

She ranks seventh among the Liberty's franchise leaders in blocks (110) and tenth in made three-pointers (145). In 2019, she scored a career-high 28 points off the bench on 73.3% (11-15) shooting, including a career-high six made threes on 85.7% shooting from deep, against the Lynx.

2023 STORYLINES

REWRITING RECORD BOOKS

The New York Liberty entered the Semifinals of the 2023 WNBA Playoffs 2-0 following their first-round sweep of the Washington Mystics — their first three-game series sweep since 2000 and their first playoff series victory since 2015.

Having improved to 4-0 in OT this season in their closeout game against Washington, the Liberty advanced with Sabrina Ionescu (20.0 PPG), Jonquel Jones (19.5 PPG), Betnijah Laney (19.0 PPG), and Breanna Stewart (18.5 PPG) all averaging 18-plus points per game in the series, marking the first time in WNBA history that a team has had four players each average over 18 points per game in any postseason series.

At 32-8, New York concluded the regular season with franchise records in wins, fewest losses, average margin of victory (13.16), and assist-to-turnover ratio (1.78). Their 32 wins are the second-most wins in a season in WNBA history. On August 15, they won the Commissioner's Cup Championship, securing the first championship hardware in franchise history.

In 2023, the Liberty averaged a WNBA record 75.0 assist percentage. New York also averaged franchise bests in points per game, assists per game, and three-pointers made per game. They finished as the only team in the league to rank in the top three across per-game points, rebounds, and assists this season.

New York is the fourth franchise to average at least 88 points per game in a season, joining Las Vegas as the only other team in the last three seasons to average 88-plus points per game.

NOTHING BUT NET

This season, the New York Liberty averaged a franchise record 109.6 offensive rating and 10.3 net rating. Including their second-ranked 99.4 defensive rating, New York was top-three across each category.

Before 2023, 13 teams in WNBA history averaged at least an offensive rating of 107.5 and a net rating of 6.5 while averaging a sub–101 defensive rating. Of these 13 teams, 12 reached the WNBA Finals, and nine were eventually crowned WNBA Champions. Despite satisfying such values, the 2021 Las Vegas Aces are the only team of the 13 not to reach the WNBA Finals — losing in the semifinals to the Phoenix Mercury, coached by Sandy Brondello.

This season, both the New York Liberty and the Las Vegas Aces meet this criteria. Multiple teams meeting such statistical categories in the same season have occurred just two other times in WNBA history, in 2016 and 2020. The two teams met in the WNBA Finals in those three seasons.

THE WHITEBOARD

On September 14, the WNBA announced that Liberty General Manager Jonathan Kolb was named Executive of the Year.

As a part of his offseason moves, New York acquired the All-Star trio of Jonquel Jones, Breanna Stewart, and Courtney Vandersloot this last offseason, all 2022 WNBA All-Stars, making the Liberty the first team to add three All-Stars from the previous season in a single offseason in WNBA history.

THE 2023 KIA WNBA MOST VALUABLE PLAYER, THE FIRST IN FRANCHISE HISTORY

Breanna Stewart went on a tear in her debut season with the Liberty en route to becoming the first league MVP winner in the history of the 27-year-old, original franchise.

On June 13, Breanna Stewart became the first player in WNBA history to record at least 200 points, 100 rebounds, and 40 assists through their team's first 10 games with her 28-point, 14-rebound, seven-assist performance in the Liberty's 80-71 victory.

Her 45-point performance against the Fever on May 21 is the most scored in under 31 minutes played in WNBA history and the second-most by any player, WNBA or NBA, in their home debut at Barclays Center. That same game, she further set career-highs in scoring (45), three-pointers made (6), a new Liberty single-game scoring record (45), a new franchise record for made field goals (15), and her 29-point first-half set a then career-high for first-half scoring—one point shy of the most-ever in first-half scoring in WNBA history.

SAB'S RECORD-SHATTERING All-AP SEASON

Sabrina Ionescu entered her fourth WNBA season fresh off a break-out 2022 campaign that saw her earn her first All-WNBA selection and eclipse Liberty Ring of Honor Member Teresa Weatherspoon's then 23-year-old single-season franchise assist record of 205 assists with her 228 total dimes last season. She became the first-ever WNBA player to record 500+ points, 200+ rebounds, and 200+ assists in a single season.

Notching two of her four career triple-doubles last season, Ionescu not only became the first-ever player to record a triple-double in less than three quarters against Chicago (6/12/22) but also secured the first 30-point triple-double at Las Vegas (7/6/22).

On May 15, the New York Liberty inked Sabrina Ionescu to a multi-year extension, linking their 2020 draftee to the Big Apple through the 2025 season. New York selected Ionescu with the No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 WNBA Draft out of Oregon. Entering her fourth WNBA season, the 5-foot-11 guard has been critical to the organization's turnaround. Through 69 regular season games, including 65 starts, Sabrina has averaged 14.9 points, 6.4 rebounds, and 6.1 assists per game–the only-ever WNBA player with such career averages across the three categories.

This season, Ionescu is rewriting record books. She won the WNBA STARRY® 3-Point Contest in record fashion in her debut appearance. Her 37-point final round marked an all-time WNBA and NBA single-round record, and her title is the first in Liberty franchise history.

In June, Ionescu set the Liberty franchise record for three-pointers made with a career-high eight threes and tied the franchise record for third-most points in a single game with 37 points on June 9. On June 27, she became the fastest guard to record 500 rebounds in league history.

In July, she became the second-fastest player in WNBA history to reach 200 threes on July 19. With her 12-point, 12-rebound, 12-assist performance against the Storm on 7/25, she secured her fourth-career triple-double, breaking a tie with Candace Parker for the second-most all-time in the regular season. With her seven three-point makes on July 28, she became the only player in WNBA history with four games of seven-plus made threes in a single season (6/9 at ATL, 6/25 vs. WAS, 7/12 at IND, & 7/28 vs. MIN).

So far in August, Ionescu broke Sugar Rodgers' Liberty single-season threes record (86) in New York's August 4th, 76-66, victory over the Lynx. On August 13, she joined Diana Taurasi and Kelsey Plum as the only three players to make 100-plus threes in a season. On August 17, she broke Diana Taurasi's WNBA record for most games with five-plus threes in a single season when he knocked down five-plus threes for the 11th time this season. On August 28, she became the fastest player in WNBA history to record 600 rebounds and 600 assists in their career, having done so in 39 fewer games than the next fastest player.

This month, she broke the WNBA all-time single-season threes record on September 7, eclipsing Diana Taurasi's previous, 17-year-old record of 121 three-pointers from 2006. She was also named to the AP All-WNBA Second Team following the conclusion of the regular season.

JJ'S ALL-WNBA SECOND-HALF SURGE

Fresh off her second-career WNBA Finals appearance, the Liberty acquired Jonquel Jones via trade this past offseason. The 6-foot-6 forward spent six seasons in the Constitution State, where the four-time All-Star won the 2021 MVP, 2018 Sixth Woman of the Year, and 2017 Most Improved Player awards and was a four-time All-WNBA selection. In 196 career games, including 149 starts, she posts career averages of 13.6 points, 8.6 rebounds, and 1.2 blocks per game on 51.1% shooting from the field and 37.7% from three.

A three-time All-Defense selection, Jones has brought her rebounding and blocking prowess to New York. In her six-season career, she has ranked in the top 10 in total blocks five times and rebounds four times, leading the WNBA in total blocks in 2019 and total rebounds and offensive rebounds in 2017 and 2019. She is a three-time WNBA leader in rebounds per game and led the league in blocks per game in 2019, averaging two blocks per game.

In the Liberty's first six games since the All-Star break, Jones averaged 16.5 points and 12.7 rebounds per game on 58.1% shooting from the field and 40.9% from deep. During that stretch, she recorded five double-doubles, finished with a season-high 17 rebounds on 7/25, pulled down 10-plus rebounds in each of those six contests, and has earned an Eastern Conference Player of the Week nod. On August 15, she was also named Commissioner's Cup

MVP for her 16-point, 15-rebound performance in New York's 82-63 victory over the Aces in the championship.

6x ALL-WNBA SLOOT, THE 2023 WNBA PEAK PERFORMER IN ASSISTS, IS LOADING

The New York Liberty welcomes Courtney Vandersloot to the Big Apple, and she has been making history in her debut season.

Coming off a twelve-season stay in the Windy City that saw her win the 2021 WNBA Championship and accumulate five All-WNBA selections, the four-time All-Star has personified playmaking.

The quintessential playmaker, Sloot has ranked in the top 10 in assist percentage in every season of her career, leading the league seven times. In all but two of her twelve seasons in the WNBA, she ranked in the top 10 in total assists and assists per game. She is a six-time WNBA leader in per-game assists, including five-straight seasons from 2017 to 2021, and she is a five-time WNBA leader in total assists, including four-straight seasons from 2018 to 2021. Having surpassed Ticha Penicherio (2600) on August 11, she ranks second all-time in career assists behind only New York native Sue Bird (3234).

In her illustrious career, the 5-foot-8 guard has recorded two triple-doubles, including one of just four post-season triple-doubles in WNBA history.

Thus far this season, Vandersloot became the fastest player in WNBA history to reach 2,500 assists on June 29th, doing so in 52 fewer games than the next fastest player. On August 6, she also eclipsed Ticha Penicheiro for second on the WNBA's all-time assists leaderboard. She also broke the Liberty's single-season assist record on 8/13. On August 26, Sloot scored her 4,000th career point, joining Sue Bird as the only players in WNBA history with at least 4,000 points, 2,500 assists, and 1,000 rebounds. On September 11, she was named the 2023 WNBA Peak Performer in Assists.

AN EMPIRE STATE HOMECOMING

Coming off an award-laden six-season stint in Seattle, four-time All-Star Breanna Stewart signed with the Liberty this past offseason in free agency, marking her official return to her home state of New York.

The 6-foot-4 Syracuse, New York native spent six seasons in the Pacific Northwest and has posted career averages of 20.3 points, 8.6 rebounds, 2.9 assists, and 1.5 blocks per game on 47.3% from the field and 36.9% from deep. Entering her first season as a Liberty, the four-time All-Star's WNBA career already features the 2018 MVP, two WNBA Championships, two Finals MVPs, five All-WNBA selections, four All-Defense selections, the 2016 Rookie of the Year, the inaugural Commissioner's Cup MVP, and a W25 selection.

HUSKIES AND DUCKS IN BK

This season, in Brooklyn, will see two sets of college teammates reunite in seafoam.

The 2023 season will mark the first time Breanna Stewart and Stef Dolson—acquired in free agency over the last two offseasons—are teammates since the former WNBA Champions' played at UCONN. In two seasons, these former Huskies posted a 75–4 record (40–0 in 2013–14) and captured two NCAA Championships as teammates from 2012 to 2014.

New York Liberty draftees Sabrina Ionescu and Nyara Sabally were teammates for two seasons at Oregon.

YEAR TWO FOR COACH BRONDELLO

The 2023 campaign marks Sandy Brondello's second season at the helm of the New York Liberty. A former WNBA player and veteran coach, Brondello led the Liberty to the franchise's first postseason victory since 2015, where the Liberty upset the then-defending Champion Chicago Sky in the opener of their three-game first-round series.

Before arriving in the County of Kings, Brondello guided the Phoenix Mercury to the 2014 WNBA Championship as its head coach and led the organization to the postseason in all eight seasons in the desert. She won the 2014 WNBA Coach of the Year award, and her 25 career postseason wins rank fifth all-time.

This regular season, the WNBA Coach of the Year candidate led the Liberty to franchise best marks across the board, the second-best record in the league, and the 2023 Commissioner's Cup Championship. She garnered the WNBA's Coach of the Month award for the month of August, became the ninth head coach to reach 200 wins, and moved into sole possession of the seventh-most wins in league history this season.

A BASKETBALL FAMILY

After facing off in the 2021 WNBA Finals as members of the Phoenix Mercury and Chicago Sky, Sandy Brondello and her husband, Olaf Lange, reunited in Brooklyn last season, coaching on the same staff for the first time since their time in San Antonio. The 2023 season marks the second season of this reunion. Sandy and Olaf have two children, Brody and Jayda.

ALL-STAR POWER

To date, New York's roster features 19 combined All-Star Appearances.

The duo of Breanna Stewart and Courtney Vandersloot boast five All-Star nods each. Jonquel Jones is a four-time All-Star.

Stef Dolson and Sabrina Ionescu are two-time WNBA All-Stars, while Betnijah Laney also sports an All-Star selection on her resume.

SANDY BRONDELLO

NEW YORK LIBERTY HEAD COACH

2ND SEASON WITH NEW YORK | 11TH SEASON | NO. 7 ALL-TIME IN WINS

Veteran WNBA coach, player, and former Australian Olympian Sandy Brondello (braun-DELL-oh) was named the ninth head coach in Liberty franchise history on January 7, 2022. Brondello joined New York after an eight-year head coaching tenure with the Phoenix Mercury where she led the team to a playoff appearance in each of her eight seasons. To date, Brondello holds an overall regular season record of 211-156 over her 11 combined seasons at the helm of the Liberty, Mercury and San Antonio Silver Stars, making her the seventh-winningest coach in WNBA history.

Additionally, Brondello has compiled a 29-24 postseason record throughout her head coaching career, ranking her as the fourth-winningest coach in league postseason history. In 2014, Sandy was named the WNBA Coach of the Year after she led Phoenix to a WNBA regular season-record 29 wins and capped the season with a WNBA Championship.

A 17-year veteran of the WNBA coaching ranks, Brondello has been affiliated with the league for 23 of its 26 seasons, including her time as a player. A proven winner internationally and in the WNBA, her 18 total years as an assistant coach and head coach have featured 16 playoff appearances, highlighted by a perfect 11-for-11 in postseason berths as a head coach.

Sandy has led her teams to seven Semifinals round berths (formerly conference finals) and three WNBA Finals appearances in 2008, 2014, and 2021. Prior to her time with the Mercury, Brondello served as lead assistant coach for the Los Angeles Sparks (2011-13) under 2012 WNBA Coach of the Year Carol Ross. Brondello led the San Antonio Silver Stars to a 2010 playoff berth in her lone season at the helm following five seasons on the Silver Stars bench as an assistant under Dan Hughes (2005-09), the fourth-winningest coach in league history.

A 2010 inductee into the Australian Basketball Hall of Fame, Brondello was named the 11th head coach for the Australian Women's National Basketball team on April 17, 2017. Most recently, Brondello led the Australian National Team to a Quarterfinals appearance in the 2020 Tokyo Summer Olympics. While she serves in her role as head coach for the Liberty, Brondello will continue to prepare the Opals who will host the 2022 FIBA Women's Basketball World Cup.

Brondello finished a stellar 17-year professional playing career with a five-year run in the WNBA in which she played for Detroit (1998-99), Miami (2001-02) and Seattle (2003), and was named a 1999 WNBA All-Star. She began her career with the Women's National Basketball League (WNBL) in Australia (1986-96), and was named the league MVP in 1995. The 5-7 guard was a 10-time German Cup champion while playing with BTV Wuppertal (1992-2002), a three-time European Cup All-Star selection (1994, 1996, 1997), and the 1996 European Cup MVP when she led her team to the title.

An 18-year member of the Australian National Team, Brondello is a four-time Olympian, a two-time silver medalist (2000, 2004) and was named the 1992 Australian International Player of the Year.

Brondello is married to Liberty assistant coach, Olaf Lange, and the couple have two children, Brody and Jayda.
