When Los Angeles and Minnesota face off on Tuesday, some WNBA history could be on the line. The Lynx currently sit at 11-0, a WNBA record for consecutive wins to start the season. The Sparks sit at 10-0, a franchise record that could be improved with tonight's game against Phoenix. Los Angeles (87.9) and Minnesota (87.0) currently sit at first and second in the WNBA in scoring offense, meaning fireworks could be expected in Tuesday's game. However, the Sparks (71.4) and Lynx (73.3) also have allowed the fewest points per game in the league, so a close game can be expected. With MVP candidates Nneka Ogumike and Maya Moore ready to battle for the first time in 2016, the fight for Western Conference supremacy figures to be an entertaining one.

SPARK PLUGS

STRONG OUT OF THE GATES

At 10-0, Los Angeles has now set a franchise record of consecutive wins to open a season. The only other undefeated team in the league is Minnesota, at 11-0. Already the WNBA record-holder for most wins to start a season, Minnesota set the record with an 87-63 win over the Indiana Fever on June 14. The Lynx are in action on Sunday against Seattle, with the potential to increase their record to 12-0 before coming to Los Angeles on Tuesday to face the Sparks in one of the most-anticipated games of the season.

ATOP THE LEADERBOARD

With one of the league's best offenses, it is expected that you will find multiple Sparks on the leaderboard of the 2016 season. Nneka Ogumike currently sits at 5th in points per game with her mark of 18.4, while teammate Candace Parker isn't far behind with 15.7 points per game, good for 10th in the league. Kristi Toliver also finds herself in the top 25, sitting at 17th in the league with 14.3 points per game. Los Angeles is the only team with three top-25 scorers in the league, showing the Sparks emphasis on offensive balance. Ogumike (70.4%/1st), Jantel Lavender (52.4%/8th) and Alana Beard (52.3%/9th) also rank in the top-10 of the WNBA, shooting some of the highest percentages in the league. In regards to the three-point shot, Toliver (46.2%/3rd) and Parker (44.1%/4th) each sit in the top-10 from behind the arc. Not only are Parker and Toliver scoring at a high level, but the two Sparks' veterans are sharing the ball as well as anybody, both ranking in the top-20 of assists with 4.4 and 3.7 assists, respectively. While the Sparks are statistically one of the lowest-rebounding teams in the WNBA, Ogumike currently brings in 9.2 boards per contest, good for fourth in the league.

NNEKA'S RECORD-SETTING GAME

LA's three-time All-Star, Nneka Ogumike, had one of the best nights of her career in Dallas (6/11) the other night. The fifth-year forward put together a stat line of 32 points on 12-of-12 shooting from the field, 7-of-7 from the free throw line, 10 rebounds and 3 assists.

Her Super Woman performance set the following WNBA records:

- Most FIELD GOAL ATTEMPTS, all made. The previous mark was 11-of-11 by Seimone Augustus (6/8/07 for MIN at LA) with 28 pts (11-11 FG, 2-2 3-PT, 4-6 FT).

- The first player to make all Field goal's, free-throw's and notch a double-double.

- Second player in WNBA history to make all field goals and free throws and have a double-double. The first player Erlana Larkins (5/14/16 for IND vs DAL), with 3-3 FG (no 3-PT) and 8-8 FT on her way to 14 pts and 13 reb.

UNSTOPPABLE FORCE

Not only did Nneka Ogumike set WNBA records with her performance on June 11, the three-time WNBA All-Star also set a WNBA record over the course of three games, from June 7th through June 14.

From the second quarter of the Sparks June 7th game against New York until the third quarter of LA's clash with Chicago, Nneka simply didn't miss, converting 23 consecutive field goals over the three-game span. The previous WNBA record for consecutive made field goals was 15 by Taj McWilliams-Franklin in 2008. While Ogumike did miss her first field goal attempt of the second half, she will find herself atop the record books for years to come with her incredible three-game stretch.

BENCH IMPROVEMENTS

Consistency from the starting five is always integral to any basketball team's success, but strong performances from the bench can transform playoff contenders into championship contenders. Los Angeles has been the recipient of some stellar bench play through nine games, as at least one reserve player has scored in double figures in 7 of the team's 9 games. Jantel Lavender (9.4) and Chelsea Gray (5.6 ppg) have been the Sparks most consistent bench performers, helping their second unit average 23.4 points per game this season.

IRON WOMAN KEEPS GOING STRONG

Consistency and durability are just a few terms that describe Sparks forward Jantel Lavender, who has now played in 149 consecutive regular season games for the Sparks. Lavender is the only player on the Sparks roster to have started and played in all 34 games during the 2015 season. Lavender looks poised to continue that streak throughout the 2016 season, as she leads all reserves with an average of 9.4 points in 17.2 minutes for Los Angeles. She recorded a season-high 22 points on June 7th against the Liberty, knocking down 10-of-14 shots in 22 minutes of action.

DANGEROUS FROM DEEP

While Los Angeles has had no trouble knocking down the deep ball this season, one sharpshooter has stood out from the rest. Kristi Toliver currently sits at 3rd in the WNBA with 24 made three-pointers on the season. She is knocking down .462% of her three-pointers, which ranks second in the WNBA. Toliver has made at least one three-point shot in each of the Sparks first ten games, the only Los Angeles player to do so. She is currently on pace to break her career-best 64 made three-pointers from the 2012 season, with 24 games remaining on the schedule. Los Angeles currently leads the WNBA with a combined .390% shooting percentage from three-point range, and Toliver's excellence has been a big reason why. After shooting just .290% from deep in 2015, the Sparks long-range woes have been vastly improved this season.

DEFENSIVE MENTALITY

Not only are the Sparks one of the top offensive teams in the league, they also lead the WNBA with just 71.4 points per game allowed, which is almost two points better than the nearest competition. One explanation of the dominant defensive effort is their 9.7 steals per game, the second-most in the league. Alana Beard has been the main pick-pocket for Los Angeles with 2.1 steals per game, good for second in the league.

SPARK PLUGS

Minnesota and Chicago are the only two other teams to rank in the top-5 in both offensive and defensive scoring.

WINNING BY LARGE MARGINS

Oftentimes, teams take a few games before finding their rhythm at the start of a new season. The Sparks have not needed much of an adjustment window, as evidenced by its 10-0 record. Not only has Los Angeles won each of its first ten games, but they have done so with an average margin of victory of 17.0 points per game. The Sparks have won two games by 30 points apiece, while also managing four other double-digit victories. Only three of the Purple and Gold's games have been decided by a single-digit margin, as evidence of their early-season dominance. Even more impressive, four of the Sparks double-digit wins have come away from Staples Center, proving they can perform at a high level in any arena. For the season, Los Angeles is outscoring its opponents by an average score of 87.9 to 71.4, the widest margin in the WNBA by more than five points.

THREE-POINT BARRAGE

Los Angeles might be a stranger to rain, but the Sparks know how to change the weather. Shooting 39.0% from beyond the arc, the Sparks currently lead the league in three-point shooting by a wide margin. Led by rainmakers Kristi Toliver (.462/3rd) and Candace Parker (.441/4th) who rank in the top-5 of qualified shooters (at least one made three-pointer per game), while Nneka Ogumike (.500) ranks highly but has only six attempts from three-point range.

SHARING IS CARING

One key explanation of the Sparks early-season success in 2016 is the fact that they lead the WNBA in assists with an average of 21.4 per game. Not only is Los Angeles sharing the ball well, they also don't give it away much, averaging just 13.2 giveaways per game, which is the fewest in the league. Kristi Toliver currently leads the league in assist-to-turnover ratio (4.6) with 37 assists and only 8 turnovers on the year. As a team, Los Angeles has a 1.6 assist-to-turnover margin through nine games, which is the best in the league.

RETURN TO THE FRIENDLY CONFINES OF STAPLES

After opening up the 2016 season with six of its first nine games away from home, the Los Angeles Sparks are prepared to play eight of its next nine contests at STAPLES Center. While the 10-0 Sparks have had success in every arena so far in 2016, key matchups look throughout the June schedule. Los Angeles has averaged 90.5 points per game on its home court this season, while allowing just 72.3 points. With playoff contenders Phoenix and Minnesota set to visit STAPLES Center next, the Sparks will need to continue their home court dominance against top competition.

HEAD COACH BRIAN AGLER (2nd Season)

On January 5, 2015, Brian Agler joined the Los Angeles Sparks as the 12th head coach in franchise history, bringing with him over 30 years of head-coaching experience, including 11 in the WNBA.

In his first season with LA and 12th in the WNBA, Agler led the Sparks to a league-best 15th postseason appearance, finishing 4th in the Western Conference standings (14-20). The all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball history, Agler enters the 2016 season two wins shy of 200 career WNBA (198) regular season wins to go along with his 78 wins in the ABL.

Agler came to the Sparks from Seattle, where he led the Storm to six consecutive playoff appearances (2008-2013) in seven years. He compiled a 136-102 (.571) record during his time in the Pacific Northwest, including his 212th career (WNBA and ABL) victory in 2012. The win on June 1 against the Tulsa Shock moved him past Van Chancellor (211), former coach of the Houston Comets, to become the all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball.

In 2010 the Storm captured the league's championship title, its second, with an impressive regular season record of 28-6 and an undefeated playoff record of 7-0. Additionally, Coach Agler was recognized as the WNBA's Coach of the Year. Prior to joining the Storm in 2008, Agler was the head coach and general manager of the expansion team Minnesota Lynx from 1999-2002, where he compiled a 42-54 (.438) record. Before being named the first coach of the expansion Lynx, Agler served as the head coach of the Columbus Quest of the ABL from 1996-1999, compiling an 82-22 record. He led the Quest to back-to-back ABL championships in 1997 and 1998 and was named the ABL Coach of the Year for the 1996-97 season.

Agler completed his third season as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Silver Stars in 2007. Prior to joining San Antonio, he served as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Mercury in 2004 and helped guide the team to a 17-17 record after the Mercury finished with an 8-26 record in 2003.

Agler spent 15 seasons coaching among the collegiate ranks, including 13 seasons as a head coach. He posted an impressive collegiate record of 248-135 (.648 winning percentage). From 1993-96 he served as the head women's basketball coach at Kansas State. In 1998, Agler took over as the head women's coach at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. In five seasons at UMKC, Agler was 85-54 and took the Kangaroos from a 9-16 record in 1988-89 to four straight winning seasons with 17 or more victories.

As the head women's basketball coach at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College from 1984-88, Agler compiled a 124-42 record (.747 winning percentage). In 1985-86, NEO A&M was ranked second nationally and posted a 30-2 record.

Agler attended Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he starred on the basketball team for four seasons. He led the Tigers to their only NCAA Division III Championship in basketball as a freshman. He started all 112 games during his college career, leaving the school as the all-time assist leader (481). Agler helped lead his team to a 91-21 record during his four years with the Tigers, and was named most valuable player in the Ohio Athletic Conference and first-team All-America as a senior. In 1995, he was inducted into the Wittenberg Hall of Honor.
