The Sparks head to New York looking to earn a victory against the Liberty for the first time since 2014, when Los Angeles defeated New York 68-54 on the road. This will be the first of three meetings between these cross-country foes in the 2016 season. In their last matchup, both teams struggled to shoot the ball in a 59-53 defensive battle. Kristi Toliver led all scorers with 16 points, while knocking down the lone Los Angeles three-pointer in the game. The Sparks allowed 34 free throw attempts in the matchup, which played a key role in the outcome of the game.

SPARK PLUGS

SEASON-OPENING RECORD

The Los Angeles Sparks got the 2016 season started on an extremely positive note, defeating the Seattle Storm by a score of 96-66. The 30-point margin of victory is the franchise's largest in a season-opening game, as Los Angeles shot a scorching 54.5% from the floor, including 40.0% from three-point range. Los Angeles took advantage of 24 Storm turnovers, turning those miscues into 30 points. After failing to defeat Seattle in four attempts last season, the Sparks were able to overcome their Western Conference foes and protect their home court in the process. After breaking the 90-point barrier only three times in 2015, the Sparks offense easily broke that barrier with a 51-point first half, punctuated by 31 points in the final quarter.

NEXT UP: 4000 POINTS

Sparks forward Candace Parker has been one of the WNBA's best players ever since she entered the league in 2008, with two MVP's to her credit as evidence of her dominance. After crossing the 3,500 point plateau in LA's season-opening victory over Seattle, the next barrier to be broken is the 4,000-point mark. If her 34-point performance in the 2016 opener is any indication, the 486 points she needs to reach the mark is well within reach. She will also have an opportunity to catch teammate Alana Beard on the all-time scoring list, as the 12-year veteran currently sits 25th with 4,101 career points.

CLOSING IN ON 200 WINS

Sparks head coach Brian Agler currently sits at sixth in WNBA history with 199 career victories after his team's season-opening victory on May 15. Agler ranks fourth among coaches with at least 150 wins with a .513 winning percentage spanning over 13 seasons in the league. He began his professional coaching career in the American Basketball League, winning 82 games in three seasons with the Columbus Quest, winning two championships in that time. His combined 280 victories are the most among professional women's basketball head coaches. With an abundance of talent coupled with several key veteran players on this year's Sparks roster, Agler figures to see that total grow considerably throughout the season.

UN-SUNG HERO

Forward Jantel Lavender was the only player on the Sparks roster to have started and played in all 34 games during the 2015 season - the first time in her career to start in every game played. She also led the team with the most 10+ point games (30) and 10+ rebound games (12) and led the team in scoring (14), rebounding (16), blocked shots (14) and minutes played (11) in a game. Considered the team's Iron Woman, Lavender has played 140 consecutive regular season games - second most in franchise history. After logging 15 minutes in the team's season-opening victory over Seattle, it appears her streak is set to continue in Friday's game against Washington.

ROAD TRIP

After only one home game to begin the 2016 campaign, the Los Angeles Sparks are set to depart on a 10-day road trip that will take them to Washington D.C., New York, Chicago and Connecticut. The four-game stretch is the Sparks' second longest of the season, with Los Angeles due to make a five-game road trip in July, spanning 12 days before the league begins its Olympic Break. Last year, the Sparks went just 5-12 away from home, a mark that will need to be improved upon if the team hopes to return to the postseason.

20 YEARS OF MEMORIES

2016 marks the 20th year since the WNBA's inception, and the league continues to grow in popularity with each new season. While the league started with eight teams in 1997, the WNBA has since grown to include 12 teams in 11 states. Los Angeles is one of three original franchises (NY, Phoenix, LA) remaining from the league's inaugural season. The league has seen eight different franchises earn championships over the 20-year span, with the now defunct Houston Comets leading the way with four consecutive championships from 1997-2000. Los Angeles has two championships of its own, winning back-to-back titles in the 2001 and 2002 seasons.

FULL SEASON OF CANDACE

After resting the first 16 games of the season last year, WNBA All-Star forward Candace Parker returned to the court to help lead the Sparks to its 15th consecutive playoff berth. With Candace in the lineup, LA finished the second half of the season with an 11-7 record after starting off 3-13. Through 16 games played, she averaged a team-high 19.4 points and 10.1 rebounds. The 2016 season marks a new beginning and a first for Parker and the Sparks. It's the first year that she has been on the court from day one of training camp. So far in 2016, she is averaging 34.0 points per game as Los Angeles is off to a 1-0 start to the regular season.

AN ESSENCE OF EAST COAST BASKETBALL

One of the Sparks key offseason acquisitions was guard Essence Carson, who came to Los Angeles after eight years with the New York Liberty. Carson has been a symbol of consistency in the league, averaging 7.7 points per game to go along with veteran leadership and an energetic playing style. Known as a solid mid-range shooter, the 6'0 guard will look to provide a boost on offense in 2016. For a team full of youth and talent, Carson will be looked upon to provide poise and charisma to help the Sparks throughout the year. In 2015, she won the WNBA Community Assist Award presented by State Farm for the month of June, which was her second time receiving the prestigious award. In the Sparks' season-opening victory, Carson scored nine points and recorded three assists to help carry her team to the win.

SPARK PLUGS

REUNITED AND IT FEELS SO GOOD

Tonya Edwards joined the Sparks coaching staff this offseason, reuniting with her former head coach Brian Agler. Edwards was drafted by Agler and the Minnesota Lynx in the 1999 WNBA Draft, earning All-Star honors during her rookie campaign. Edwards' skills and knowledge of basketball have contributed greatly to her 18-year coaching career, most recently with Alcorn State University from 2008-2015. This season will mark Edwards' first coaching stint in the WNBA, after spending five years in the league as a player.

OLD STOMPING GROUNDS

Both Sparks forward Essence Carson and guard Chelsea Gray will have a bit of a homecoming on this upcoming Sparks road trip, as both players will head to the city where their professional careers began. For Carson, her return to New York will surely be an emotional one after spending eight seasons with the Liberty. While Gray only played one year for the Connecticut Sun, her matchup against the team that drafted her will provide a unique experience for the second-year guard.

OVERSEAS CHAMPION

Sparks guard Alana Beard returns to Los Angeles as a champion, after her Perfumerias Avenida team won the Spanish League championship by winning two of three games against Uni Girona. The championship was Perfumerias Avenida's fourth in team history, and its first since 2012-13. Beard is preparing to begin her 12th year in the WNBA and fourth with the Sparks, after averaging 7.8 points per game to go along with 3.1 rebounds in 2015 for Los Angeles.

FINALS MVP RETURNS

Sparks forward Jantel Lavender returned to the United States just in time for the 2016 regular season, fresh off of a Turkish League Championship with Fenerbahce. Lavender earned MVP honors for her performance in the playoffs, which included 21 points in the 68-66 victory over Hatay BSB in the deciding game. The title was Fenerbahce's first since the 2012-13 season, after previously winning eight consecutive championships leading up to that season.

HEAD COACH BRIAN AGLER (2nd Season)

On January 5, 2015, Brian Agler joined the Los Angeles Sparks as the 12th head coach in franchise history, bringing with him over 30 years of head-coaching experience, including 11 in the WNBA.

In his first season with LA and 12th in the WNBA, Agler led the Sparks to a league-best 15th postseason appearance, finishing 4th in the Western Conference standings (14-20). The all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball history, Agler enters the 2016 season two wins shy of 200 career WNBA (198) regular season wins to go along with his 78 wins in the ABL.

Agler came to the Sparks from Seattle, where he led the Storm to six consecutive playoff appearances (2008-2013) in seven years. He compiled a 136-102 (.571) record during his time in the Pacific Northwest, including his 212th career (WNBA and ABL) victory in 2012. The win on June 1 against the Tulsa Shock moved him past Van Chancellor (211), former coach of the Houston Comets, to become the all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball.

In 2010 the Storm captured the league's championship title, its second, with an impressive regular season record of 28-6 and an undefeated playoff record of 7-0. Additionally, Coach Agler was recognized as the WNBA's Coach of the Year. Prior to joining the Storm in 2008, Agler was the head coach and general manager of the expansion team Minnesota Lynx from 1999-2002, where he compiled a 42-54 (.438) record. Before being named the first coach of the expansion Lynx, Agler served as the head coach of the Columbus Quest of the ABL from 1996-1999, compiling an 82-22 record. He led the Quest to back-to-back ABL championships in 1997 and 1998 and was named the ABL Coach of the Year for the 1996-97 season.

Agler completed his third season as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Silver Stars in 2007. Prior to joining San Antonio, he served as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Mercury in 2004 and helped guide the team to a 17-17 record after the Mercury finished with an 8-26 record in 2003.

Agler spent 15 seasons coaching among the collegiate ranks, including 13 seasons as a head coach. He posted an impressive collegiate record of 248-135 (.648 winning percentage). From 1993-96 he served as the head women's basketball coach at Kansas State. In 1998, Agler took over as the head women's coach at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. In five seasons at UMKC, Agler was 85-54 and took the Kangaroos from a 9-16 record in 1988-89 to four straight winning seasons with 17 or more victories.

As the head women's basketball coach at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College from 1984-88, Agler compiled a 124-42 record (.747 winning percentage). In 1985-86, NEO A&M was ranked second nationally and posted a 30-2 record.

Agler attended Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he starred on the basketball team for four seasons. He led the Tigers to their only NCAA Division III Championship in basketball as a freshman. He started all 112 games during his college career, leaving the school as the all-time assist leader (481). Agler helped lead his team to a 91-21 record during his four years with the Tigers, and was named most valuable player in the Ohio Athletic Conference and first-team All-America as a senior. In 1995, he was inducted into the Wittenberg Hall of Honor.
