The Sparks head to Connecticut hoping to reverse a recent trend against the Sun, a team they lost two in both meetings of the 2015 season. Los Angeles and Connecticut met twice in June, before Candace Parker had joined the team and helped lead the late-season playoff push. In their most recent win, Alex Bentley led the Sun with 18 points, while Jantel Lavender led all scorers with 22 points on 9-of 16 shooting. Los Angeles and Connecticut are set to meet on three occasions this season.

SPARK PLUGS

STRONG OUT OF THE GATES

Starting out the season on a positive note is important for any team, and the Sparks have done just that with a 3-0 mark to begin the 2016 campaign. It is the Sparks first 3-0 start to a season since 2003, when they began the season 9-0 and finished the year 24-10, eventually reaching the WNBA Finals. Los Angeles has utilized a scorching offense (90.7 ppg) to put away its opponents, while their scoring defense (68.3) is also the best in the league. The Sparks .473 shooting percentage and 19.3 assists per game rank second in the WNBA, trailing only the Minnesota Lynx.

PICK-POCKETING AT ITS FINEST

While the offense has stolen the headlines so far, the Sparks also have the league's best scoring defense in 2016, allowing just 68.3 points per game. One reason for that is their league-best 14.0 steals per game, which is more than two steals more than the closest competition. Alana Beard has led the charge on defense with her 11 steals through three games, which ranks second in the WNBA.

TWO MVP'S GOING AT IT

When Chicago and Los Angeles meet on Tuesday night, reigning MVP Elena Delle Donne will take on two-time MVP Candace Parker for the first time in 2016. Parker got the best of Delle Donne and the Sky in both meetings last season, as she averaged 26.0 points compared to 22.0 from the Chicago guard. Chicago and Los Angeles are set to do battle on three occasions in 2016, where each team's superstar will look to asert their teams as a force in thir respective conferences.

ATOP THE LEADERBOARD

With the league's best scoring offense, it is expected that you will find multiple Sparks on the statistical leaderboard in the early-going of the 2016 season. Candace Parker currently sits at 7th in points per game with her mark of 18.7, while teammate Nneka Ogwumike isn't far behind with 16.0 points per game, good for 10th in the league. Kristi Toliver also finds herself in the top 20, sitting at 16th in the league with 15.3 points per game. Los Angeles is the only team with three top-20 scorers in the league, showing the Sparks emphasis on offensive efficiency. Ogwumike (60.7%) and Toliver (54.8%) also both rank in the top-7 of the WNBA, shooting some of the highest percentages in the league. In regards to the three-point shot, Toliver (58.3%) and Parker (46.2%) each sit in the top-10 from behind the arc. Not only are Parker and Toliver scoring at a high level, but the two Sparks' veterans are sharing the ball as well as anybody, both ranking in the top-20 of assists with 4.3 and 3.3 assists, respectively. While the Sparks are statistically one of the lowest-rebounding teams in the WNBA, Ogwumike currently brings in 8.0 boards per contest, good for sixth in the league.

OLD STOMPING GROUNDS

Both Sparks forward Essence Carson and guard Chelsea Gray will have a bit of a homecoming on this upcoming Sparks road trip, as both players will head to the city where their professional careers began. For Carson, her return to New York will surely be an emotional one after spending eight seasons with the Liberty. While Gray only played one year for the Connecticut Sun, her matchup against the team that drafted her will provide a unique professional experience for the second-year guard.

SEASON-OPENING RECORD

The Los Angeles Sparks got the 2016 season started on an extremely positive note, defeating the Seattle Storm by a score of 96-66. The 30-point margin of victory is the franchise's largest in a season-opening game, as Los Angeles shot a scorching 54.5% from the floor, including 40.0% from three-point range. Los Angeles took advantage of 24 Storm turnovers, turning those miscues into 30 points. After failing to defeat Seattle in four attempts last season, the Sparks were able to overcome their Western Conference foes and protect their home court in the process. After breaking the 90-point barrier only three times in 2015, the Sparks offense easily broke that barrier with a 51-point first half, punctuated by 31 points in the final quarter. The Sparks continued their impressive pace with another 30-point victory over Washington on May 20, the first time in franchise history that the team has opened up the regular season with two victories of that wide of a margin.

NEXT UP: 4000 POINTS

Sparks forward Candace Parker has been one of the WNBA's best players ever since she entered the league in 2008, with two MVP's to her credit as evidence of her dominance. After crossing the 3,500 point plataeu in LA's season-opening victory over Seattle, the next barrier to be broken is the 4,000-point mark. If her 34-point performance in the 2016 opener is any indication, the 464 points she needs to reach the mark is well within reach. She will also have an opportunity to catch teammate Alana Beard on the all-time scoring list, as the 12-year veteran currently sits 25th with 4,126 career points.

HISTORICAL MATCHUP

While every regular season game is important in the WNBA, some matchups carry more weight than others, including Los Angeles' trip to New York. The Sparks and Liberty hold a special place in WNBA history, as the two teams took part in the league's first-ever regular season game. Current Sparks Executive Vice President and General Manager Penny Toler even made the first basket in WNBA history, knocking down a jumper to put the league's first points on the board. Saturday's matchup will be the first of three between these cross-country rivals this season.

SPARK PLUGS

AN ESSENCE OF EAST COAST BASKETBALL

One of the Sparks key offseason acquisitions was guard Essence Carson, who came to Los Angeles after eight years with the New York Liberty. Carson has been a symbol of consistency in the league, averaging 7.7 points per game to go along with veteran leadership and an energetic playing style. Known as a solid midrange shooter, the 6'0 guard will look to provide a boost on offense in 2016. For a team full of youth and talent, Carson will be looked upon to provide poise and charisma to help the Sparks throughout the year. In 2015, she won the WNBA Community Assist Award presented by State Farm for the month of June, which was her second time receiving the prestigious award. In the Sparks' season-opening victory, Carson scored nine points and recorded three assists to help carry her team to the win.

NEW MEMBER OF THE 200 CLUB

Sparks head coach Brian Agler earned his 200th career WNBA victory on May 20 with the Sparks win over Washington. Agler currently sits at sixth in WNBA history with 199 career victories after his team's season-opening victory on May 15. Agler ranks fourth among coaches with at least 150 wins with a .513 winning percentage spanning over 13 seasons in the league. He began his professional coaching career in the American Basketball League, winning 82 games in three seasons with the Columbus Quest, winning two championships in that time. His combined 280 victories are the most among professional women's basketball head coaches.

With an abundance of talent coupled with several key veteran players on this year's Sparks roster, Agler figures to see that total grow considerably throughout the season.

20 YEARS OF MEMORIES

2016 marks the 20th year since the WNBA's inception, and the league continues to grow in popularity with each new season. While the league started with eight teams in 1997, the WNBA has since grown to include 12 teams in 11 states. Los Angeles is one of three original franchises (NY, Phoenix, LA) remaining from the league's inaugural season. The league has seen eight different franchises earn championships over the 20-year span.

ROAD TRIP

After only one home game to begin the 2016 campaign, the Los Angeles Sparks are set to depart on a 10-day road trip that will take them to Washington D.C., New York, Chicago and Connecticut. The four-game stretch is the Sparks' second longest of the season, with Los Angeles due to make a five-game road trip in July, spanning 12 days before the league begins its Olympic Break. Last year, the Sparks went just 5-12 away from home, a mark that will need to be improved upon if the team hopes to return to the postseason.

HEAD COACH BRIAN AGLER (2nd Season)

On January 5, 2015, Brian Agler joined the Los Angeles Sparks as the 12th head coach in franchise history, bringing with him over 30 years of head-coaching experience, including 11 in the WNBA.

In his first season with LA and 12th in the WNBA, Agler led the Sparks to a league-best 15th postseason appearance, finishing 4th in the Western Conference standings (14-20). The all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball history, Agler enters the 2016 season two wins shy of 200 career WNBA (198) regular season wins to go along with his 78 wins in the ABL.

Agler came to the Sparks from Seattle, where he led the Storm to six consecutive playoff appearances (2008-2013) in seven years. He compiled a 136-102 (.571) record during his time in the Pacific Northwest, including his 212th career (WNBA and ABL) victory in 2012. The win on June 1 against the Tulsa Shock moved him past Van Chancellor (211), former coach of the Houston Comets, to become the all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball.

In 2010 the Storm captured the league's championship title, its second, with an impressive regular season record of 28-6 and an undefeated playoff record of 7-0. Additionally, Coach Agler was recognized as the WNBA's Coach of the Year. Prior to joining the Storm in 2008, Agler was the head coach and general manager of the expansion team Minnesota Lynx from 1999-2002, where he compiled a 42-54 (.438) record. Before being named the first coach of the expansion Lynx, Agler served as the head coach of the Columbus Quest of the ABL from 1996-1999, compiling an 82-22 record. He led the Quest to back-to-back ABL championships in 1997 and 1998 and was named the ABL Coach of the Year for the 1996-97 season.

Agler completed his third season as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Silver Stars in 2007. Prior to joining San Antonio, he served as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Mercury in 2004 and helped guide the team to a 17-17 record after the Mercury finished with an 8-26 record in 2003.

Agler spent 15 seasons coaching among the collegiate ranks, including 13 seasons as a head coach. He posted an impressive collegiate record of 248-135 (.648 winning percentage). From 1993-96 he served as the head women's basketball coach at Kansas State. In 1998, Agler took over as the head women's coach at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. In five seasons at UMKC, Agler was 85-54 and took the Kangaroos from a 9-16 record in 1988-89 to four straight winning seasons with 17 or more victories.

As the head women's basketball coach at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College from 1984-88, Agler compiled a 124-42 record (.747 winning percentage). In 1985-86, NEO A&M was ranked second nationally and posted a 30-2 record.

Agler attended Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he starred on the basketball team for four seasons. He led the Tigers to their only NCAA Division III Championship in basketball as a freshman. He started all 112 games during his college career, leaving the school as the all-time assist leader (481). Agler helped lead his team to a 91-21 record during his four years with the Tigers, and was named most valuable player in the Ohio Athletic Conference and first-team All-America as a senior. In 1995, he was inducted into the Wittenberg Hall of Honor.
