Los Angeles and Dallas are set to face-off for the third and final time in 2016 on Friday. The Sparks have won each of the two prior meetings this season, including an epic 22-point comeback on its home court on June 28th. Los Angeles and Dallas feature two of the WNBA's best offenses, with the Sparks ranking 4th in the league with 84.6 points per game, while the Wings sit at 5th with 84.2 points per game. Despite the similarities in terms of each team's scoring output, the Sparks shoot a much higher percentage from the field, knocking down a league-best 49.5% of its field goal attempts. Dallas, on the other hand, ranks 12th in the league behind a 40.2% clip from the floor.

SPARK PLUGS

TEXAS TWO-STEP

The Sparks are set to wrap up its four-game road trip with a pair of contests against San Antonio and Dallas, respectively. Los Angeles currently has a 4-0 record against its foes from the Lone Star State in 2016, as they look to end their two-game skid entering tonight's contest. Tonight will be the front end of the second back-to-back of the Sparks season, before heading to Dallas for tomorrow's clash. In their first back-to-back of the year on May 20 and May 21, Los Angeles swept the two games against Washington and New York. The Sparks are hoping to have a repeat of that success before heading home to take on Indiana on Sunday, marking the Sparks' first home game since July 10th.

LOCKING DOWN ON DEFENSE

Los Angeles has had success against its Western Conference foes in 2016, compiling a 7-3 record on the year. One team who the Sparks have had particular success against is San Antonio, who has scored a total of 122 points in their two meetings this season, an average of 61.0 points per game allowed. The Sparks have allowed a season-low of 61 points in each of their two victories over San Antonio, holding the Stars to 36.4% from the field in those games. San Antonio has also only shot 5-of-31 from three-point range in their two meetings, good for a clip of 16.1%. After allowing an average of 81.4 points per game over its last five contests, the Sparks will attempt to right the ship against San Antonio in tonight's Western Conference battle.

OFFENSIVE ADVANTAGE

Although the Sparks and Stars are two of the top defensive teams in the WNBA, Los Angeles holds a solid advantage on the offensive end. On the defensive side of the ball, L.A. ranks first with an average of 75.7 points per game allowed. The Stars aren't far behind, ranking 4th in the WNBA by allowing 80.7 points per game. While a defensive clash can be expected in tonight's game, Los Angeles will hope to utilize its high-scoring offense to create some separation with its Western Conference foe. For the season, the Sparks average 84.6 points per game, good for fourth in the WNBA. However, San Antonio sits at 12th in the league with an average of just 72.5 points per game.

MOVING UP IN THE RECORD BOOKS

Two-time WNBA All-Star Kristi Toliver knocked down the 400th made three-pointer of her career on Sunday against the Phoenix Mercury. Only 15 other players have accomplished the feat in WNBA history, as Toliver currently sits at 16th on the all-time list with 400 made threes in her eight-year career. She has shot the deep ball as well as ever before, knocking down 43.3% of her attempts from beyond the arc, the second-highest clip of her career. The 5'7 guard currently has the third-most made three-pointers in the league this season (65), one more than her previous high in any season, when she knocked down 64 in 2012. With eight games remaining in the regular season, Toliver has an opportunity to continue climbing the record books and building upon the best three-point shooting campaign of her career.

WONDER WOMAN DOES IT ALL

Nneka Ogumike has had a historically-impressive season in 2016, leading the Sparks in almost all major categories while making a strong case for the league's MVP award:

Category	Stat	WNBA Rank	Team Rank

Rebounds	9.1	3rd	1st

*Would set a WNBA Record

SUPERB PERFORMANCE FROM SUPER WOMAN

Candace Parker has also put up MVP-caliber numbers in 2016, forming a dominating tandem with Nneka in leading the Sparks:

Category	Stat	WNBA Rank	Team Rank
Points	16.4	9th	2nd
Rebounds	7.5	8th	2nd

OWNING HER ROLE

Jantel Lavender has emerged as one of the WNBA's top role players this season, putting up big-time numbers as a Sixth Woman of the Year candidate:

SPARK PLUGS

SECOND-HALF STRUGGLES

Los Angeles returned to action after the Olympic Break on Friday night, and fell to the Seattle Storm 79-72. The Sparks then dropped its Sunday contest against Phoenix by a score of 70-66, for their fourth loss in five games. Los Angeles now has the WNBA's second-best record at 21-5, sitting a half-game behind the Minnesota Lynx. After starting the season 9-0 on the road, Los Angeles has lost four of its past five games away from home. The Sparks remain on the road for two more games before returning home on September 4th, where they will face-off against the Indiana Fever. Los Angeles has allowed an average of 81.4 points per game over the past five games, compared to just an average of 75.7 points per game allowed this season.

PROTECTING THE ROCK

One reason the Sparks have dropped four of its past five games after a 21-1 start to the season has been L.A.'s inability to hold onto the ball in those losses. In the four recent losses, the Sparks are averaging 18.0 turnovers per game, a mark that would rank the worst in the league over the course of an entire season. On the year, Los Angeles averages 14.1 turnovers per game, the sixth-fewest in the WNBA. The Sparks are a perfect 14-0 in games where it has fewer turnovers than its opponent, compared to a 7-5 mark in all other games, showing the importance of protecting the ball. In its most recent game against Phoenix, the Sparks turned the ball over a season-high 23 times, a trend they will hope to reverse tonight.

BATTLE OF THE BEST IN THE WEST

Los Angeles and Minnesota have split the first two games of their season series, with each team winning on the road. The Sparks and Lynx will finalize their season series on September 6th at Staples Center on ESPN 2. With only a half-game advantage for the Lynx over Los Angeles, each of L.A.'s final 8 games will factor into playoff seeding. This will be the first year that WNBA playoff seeding is based on overall record and not on conference affiliation. The top two seeds in the playoffs get automatic entrance into the semifinals by earning "byes" through the first two rounds of the postseason. If Los Angeles finishes the year with the best record in the league, it would have home-court advantage throughout the entirety of the postseason.

COAST-TO-COAST DOMINANCE

After defeating Washington on 7/22, Los Angeles sits at 14-2 against Eastern Conference opponents this season. The Sparks have only five losses on the season, tied for the fewest in the league. Los Angeles has outscored its opponents from the East by an 88.8-to-71.6 margin in its victories this season, after going just 4-8 against Eastern Conference opponents in 2015. Six of the Sparks final eight games are against Western Conference opponents to close out the 2016 regular season.

BRINGING DOWN THE BOARDS

Los Angeles ranks just 9th in the WNBA with 31.7 rebounds per game, but the Sparks have won the rebounding battle in six of its past seven games. Despite the team's overall rebounding struggles on the year, both Nneka Ogumike (9.1/3rd) and Candace Parker (7.5/8th) sit amongst the league leaders. In games where the Sparks have outrebounded its opponent, Los Angeles holds a 9-3 record, compared to a 12-2 clip in all other games.

DOMINANT STRETCH FOR NNEKA

Since 6/7 against New York, Ogumike has shot 158-for-215 from the field, good for an incredible 73.5% mark. No player with an average of at least eight shot attempts per game has ever performed that well over a 19-game stretch. She has shot 50.0% or better in 25 of 26 games this season, the only player to do so with an average of 10 shot attempts in those games. Ogumike has scored in double figures in 11 consecutive games and 13 of her last 14 overall. She currently has a team-high 13 double-doubles on the season, the second-most in the WNBA, trailing only New York's Tina Charles.

IN CONTROL FROM DEEP

The Sparks have had tremendous success controlling the three-point line this season, shooting 38.6% from beyond the arc, which leads the league, led by sharpshooters Essence Carson (43.8/4th) and Kristi Toliver (43.3/5th). Overall, 9 of the 12 Sparks players have knocked down a three-pointer this season. Los Angeles is also the league's best team in terms of defending the three-point line, allowing opponents to shoot just 30.6% from deep. No other team in the WNBA ranks in the top-three in three-point shooting on both offense and defense.

ATOP THE LEADERBOARD

Nneka Ogumike currently sits at 3rd in points per game with her mark of 19.7, while teammate Candace Parker isn't far behind with 16.4 points per game, 9th in the league. Kristi Toliver also finds herself in the top 20, sitting at 19th in the league with 13.3 points per game. Los Angeles is the only team with three top-20 scorers in the league, showing the Sparks emphasis on offensive balance. Ogumike (70.8%/1st), Jantel Lavender (54.2%/10th), Alana Beard (47.4%/18th) and Candace Parker (46.3%/21st) also rank in the top-25 of the WNBA, shooting some of the highest percentages in the league. In regards to the three-point shot, Carson (43.8%/4th) and Toliver (43.3%/5th) each sit in the top-10 from beyond the arc. Not only are Parker and Toliver scoring at a high level, but the two Sparks' veterans are sharing the ball as well, both ranking in the top-15 of assists with 5.2 and 3.7 assists, respectively. While the Sparks are one of the lowest-rebounding teams in the WNBA, Ogumike currently brings in 9.1 boards per contest, good for 3rd in the league.

HEAD COACH BRIAN AGLER (2nd Season)

On January 5, 2015, Brian Agler joined the Los Angeles Sparks as the 12th head coach in franchise history, bringing with him over 30 years of head-coaching experience, including 11 in the WNBA.

In his first season with LA and 12th in the WNBA, Agler led the Sparks to a league-best 15th postseason appearance, finishing 4th in the Western Conference standings (14-20). The all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball history, Agler enters the 2016 season two wins shy of 200 career WNBA (198) regular season wins to go along with his 78 wins in the ABL.

Agler came to the Sparks from Seattle, where he led the Storm to six consecutive playoff appearances (2008-2013) in seven years. He compiled a 136-102 (.571) record during his time in the Pacific Northwest, including his 212th career (WNBA and ABL) victory in 2012. The win on June 1 against the Tulsa Shock moved him past Van Chancellor (211), former coach of the Houston Comets, to become the all-time winningest coach in women's professional basketball.

In 2010 the Storm captured the league's championship title, its second, with an impressive regular season record of 28-6 and an undefeated playoff record of 7-0. Additionally, Coach Agler was recognized as the WNBA's Coach of the Year. Prior to joining the Storm in 2008, Agler was the head coach and general manager of the expansion team Minnesota Lynx from 1999-2002, where he compiled a 42-54 (.438) record. Before being named the first coach of the expansion Lynx, Agler served as the head coach of the Columbus Quest of the ABL from 1996-1999, compiling an 82-22 record. He led the Quest to back-to-back ABL championships in 1997 and 1998 and was named the ABL Coach of the Year for the 1996-97 season.

Agler completed his third season as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Silver Stars in 2007. Prior to joining San Antonio, he served as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Mercury in 2004 and helped guide the team to a 17-17 record after the Mercury finished with an 8-26 record in 2003.

Agler spent 15 seasons coaching among the collegiate ranks, including 13 seasons as a head coach. He posted an impressive collegiate record of 248-135 (.648 winning percentage). From 1993-96 he served as the head women's basketball coach at Kansas State. In 1998, Agler took over as the head women's coach at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. In five seasons at UMKC, Agler was 85-54 and took the Kangaroos from a 9-16 record in 1988-89 to four straight winning seasons with 17 or more victories.

As the head women's basketball coach at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College from 1984-88, Agler compiled a 124-42 record (.747 winning percentage). In 1985-86, NEO A&M was ranked second nationally and posted a 30-2 record.

Agler attended Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio, where he starred on the basketball team for four seasons. He led the Tigers to their only NCAA Division III Championship in basketball as a freshman. He started all 112 games during his college career, leaving the school as the all-time assist leader (481). Agler helped lead his team to a 91-21 record during his four years with the Tigers, and was named most valuable player in the Ohio Athletic Conference and first-team All-America as a senior. In 1995, he was inducted into the Wittenberg Hall of Honor.
