EDD vs. CP3

The Los Angeles Sparks look to extend their winning streak to three in another Sunday Afternoon game at Staples. With a victory, the Sparks become the first WNBA team to 500 wins and an all time record of 500 - 293. The team would also move to above .500 for the first time since June 14th. Los Angeles is coming off of an impressive home victory against the Chicago Sky, where they were led in scoring by guard Riquna Williams, who had 19 points and shot 45.5% from the field. All active players appeared in the game against Chicago, with each player playing over 14 minutes. Five players on the Sparks scored in double figures en route to the Sparks highest scoring game of the season.

SCHOOL OF FISHER

The Los Angeles Sparks named Derek Fisher as its new head coach during the offseason on December 5, 2018. Fisher won five titles in 18 NBA seasons with the Los Angeles Lakers, and played alongside Kobe Bryant and Shaquille O'Neal en route to three consecutive titles from 2000 to 2002. Fisher began his coaching career as the head coach of the New York Knicks during the 2015-2016 season. The Sparks' 12th head coach hopes to translate his championship experience to the Sparks as he enters his first season in the league for the 2019 WNBA season.

NEW FACES

In addition to bringing in head coach Derek Fisher, the Los Angeles Sparks also made some roster changes as well. The Sparks took center Kalani Brown as the seventh overall pick and guard Marina Mabrey as the 19th overall pick in the 2019 WNBA Draft. Following the draft, Los Angeles acquired guard Alexis Jones from the Minnesota Lynx in exchange for guard Odyssey Sims, before trading a first-round pick to the Connecticut Sun in exchange for two-time All-Star forward/center Chiney Ogwumike. Before the draft, the Sparks signed free agent guard Tierra Ruffin-Pratt, who played six seasons with the Washington Mystics and helped them reach the 2018 WNBA Finals.

IT ALL STARTS UP FRONT

Already with a deep frontcourt in forwards Candace Parker, Nneka Ogwumike, and Maria Vadeeva last season, the Sparks will add forward/center Chiney Ogwumike and center Kalani Brown to the rotation. The three were vital to the Sparks posting the WNBA's fifth best field goal percentage of 45.2 during Los Angeles' 2018 year campaign. Ogwumike averaged 14.4 points and 7.5 rebounds per game in Connecticut, shooting a career-high 60.3 percent from the field. Brown — who helped Baylor win the 2019 NCAA Championship — averaged 15.6 points and 8.1 rebounds per game during her senior season.

KALANI BROWN AKA 'THE BABY ENFORCER'

Kalani Brown, AKA 'The Baby Enforcer', scored a career high 12 points against the Las Vegas Aces on June 27. The rookie held up defensively against the All-Star frontcourt of A'ja Wilson and Liz Cambage and was able to get consistent deep post position to put herself in position to score inside. Brown brings an element the Sparks need with her size at 6'7" and continues to improve each game.

GRAY SCALE

The Sparks announced the resigning of guard Chelsea Gray on April 30. In 2018, Gray evolved into one of the best point guards in the league, averaging new career-highs in points (14.9), assists (5.1), rebounds (3.4) and steals (1.4) in her second season as a full time starter. In her fourth season in the league, Gray earned her second consecutive WNBA All-Star honors after having a breakout season in 2017. She opened last season with a game-winning buzzer-beater to give the Sparks a 77-76 win over the Minnesota Lynx. Gray recorded her 500th career assist and scored a career high 29 points in the third game of 2019 at New York. The point guard also achieved her 1500 career points milestone on June 8 at Minnesota.

WASHINGTON MYSTICS

PREVIEW: The Los Angeles Sparks look to continue their success at home as they take on the Washington Mystics for the second time this season. The Sparks have won their last two games and are looking to extend their win streak to three games, which would make it their longest winning streak of the 2019 season. With a win, the Sparks will move back above .500 for the first time since June 14th. Last time out Los Angeles was able to soar past the Chicago Sky 94-69, maintaining control of the game throughout.

The Washington Mystics have started off the 2019 season with a 9-3 record and are currently on a five-game winning streak dating back to June 18th, where the Mystics defeated the Sparks by a score of 81-52. Washington currently resides at the top of the WNBA standings, while the Los Angeles Sparks sit in fifth place. To begin the 2019 season, the Mystics lead the WNBA in scoring per game (86.8) as well as assists per game (21.3). Washington also leads the WNBA in 3-Pointers made per game with 8.9 3PM.

Washington is led by five-time all-star and 2015 WNBA MVP Elena Delle Donne, who is averaging 17.2 points and 8.9 rebounds to start the season. Her 8.9 RPG ranks her fifth in rebounding in the league, behind Sparks forward

Nneka Ogwumike who is third in the WNBA, averaging 9.2 Since 2015, Delle Donne has started every game that she has been active for. In addition to Delle Donne, the Mystics are also led by point guard Kristi Toliver. Toliver, a 2016 WNBA Champion with the Los Angeles Sparks, is in her third season with Washington, is averaging 11.8 points and 5.3 assists per game. Toliver's 5.3 APG currently ranks her sixth in the WNBA.

Los Angeles is coming off of an impressive home victory against the Chicago Sky, where they were led in scoring by guard Riquna Williams, who had 19 points and shot 45.5% from the field. All active players played in the game against Chicago, with each player playing over 14 minutes. Five players on the Sparks scored in double figures en route to the Sparks highest scoring game of the season. In addition to scoring the ball in volume, Los Angeles also passed the ball well, tallying 21 total assists, five coming from rookie Marina Mabrey, which marks her career-high.

During the offseason, the Washington Mystics received the tenth overall selection of the 2019 WNBA Draft, where they selected Kiara Leslie. Leslie, a guard from North Carolina State, is expected to miss the first three to four months of the season after sustaining a meniscus tear right before their first exhibition game of the 2019 season. Aside from the WNBA Draft, Washington were able to resign guard Natasha Cloud and forward LaToya Sanders. Cloud and Sanders have each started all seven games that the Mystics have played to begin the year, with Cloud averaging 32.1 minutes per game and Sanders with 23.4 MPG.

The Sparks and Mystics faced each other earlier in the season, where the Mystics defeated the Sparks 81-52. Washington forward Ariel Atkins led all scorers in the game, scoring 22 points. This matchup also marked Candace Parker's first game back from injury, where she played close to 25 minutes, scoring three points in limited action. The Sparks will be looking for revenge when Washington comes back to STAPLES Center, hoping to build off of impressive victories against Las Vegas and Chicago, before hitting the road for a three-game road trip.

LAST GAME - JUNE 30, 2019

CHICAGO SKY

Recap: LOS ANGELES, Calif. (June 30, 2019) -- Behind a season-high 10 3-pointers, the Los Angeles Sparks cruised past the Chicago Sky 94-69 on Sunday afternoon, winning back-to-back contests in their second of a three-game home stand.

The Sparks outscored the Sky in all four quarters and every player who saw action for Los Angeles scored, including five players who registered double-digit scoring performances. Riquna Williams led the way with 19 points for the Sparks and Diamond DeShields scored 23 for Chicago.

The Sky started the game on a 5-0 run, but the Sparks answered with an 11-0 run. Candace Parker either scored or assisted on every basket during the run, including a 3-point play of her own. Sydney Wiese — who did not see the court in the Sparks' last two games — knocked down a 3-pointer to give Los Angeles a 24-21 lead heading into the second quarter. She'd finish with 11 points. Both teams shot over 50% from beyond the arc, with Chicago going 5-of-10 and Los Angeles going 4-of-7.

In the second period, Williams buried her third 3-pointer of the contest to put the Sparks up 27-21. Los Angeles held Chicago to just 25.6% from the field for the half, resulting in a 48-36 halftime advantage. Despite finishing the half going 7-of-16 from downtown, the Sky shot just 3-of-23 from inside the arc in the first two periods.

After the break, Parker nailed a pull-up 3 to put the Sparks up 51-36. A right-elbow jumper from Tierra Ruffin-Pratt marked the Sparks' fourth game of the season with every player scoring. Los Angeles' lead ballooned to 25 points – its largest of the game – after a 3-pointer by Ruffin-Pratt. With the win, the Sparks hit .500 and handed the Sky their fourth loss in their last five games. About a third of the way into the season, the Sparks currently sit at fifth behind the Las Vegas Aces in the league's standings.

Up Next: The Sparks will stay at home and host the Washington Mystics next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. PT on Spectrum SportsNet and League Pass.

He later added two more rings in 2009 and 2010 with Los Angeles. Fisher also played for the Golden State Warriors, Utah Jazz, Dallas Mavericks and Oklahoma City Thunder.

Fisher's accolades include holding the all-time NBA record for playoff game appearances (259).
