Dallas Wings To Play At American Airlines Center For 2027 Season

Arlington, TX (Aug. 3, 2026) – The Dallas Wings will play the team’s home games for the 2027 season at American Airlines Center in Dallas, the team announced today. The Wings, who relocated to North Texas prior to the 2016 WNBA season, have played the last 11 seasons at College Park Center in Arlington.

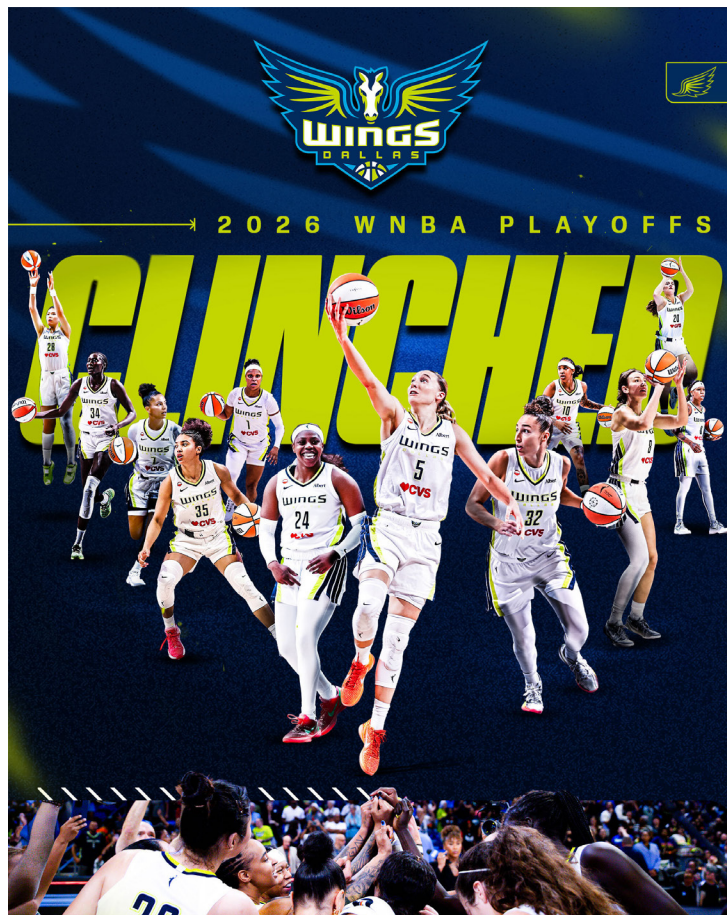

The Wings played two regular-season games at AAC in 2025, including a record-setting showing on June 27 against the Indiana Fever. Dallas and Indiana played in front of a sold-out crowd of 20,409 at AAC, marking a franchise single-game record, the largest WNBA crowd in Texas ever and just the eighth regular-season game in WNBA history to feature more than 20,000 fans in attendance. Dallas has three scheduled games at AAC during the 2026 season, including a rematch with the Fever on Aug. 20, along with this Friday’s showdown with the Golden State Valkyries.

Dallas Wings Clinch 2026 Playoff Berth

Arlington, TX (Aug. 25, 2026) – With tonight’s 96-78 win over the Portland Fire, the Dallas Wings have clinched a WNBA Playoff berth and a top eight finish in the 2026 WNBA standings. Dallas is headed to the postseason for the first time since 2023 and sixth since 2016, when the team relocated to North Texas. Mathematically the Wings can finish anywhere between second and eighth. The First Round is a best-of-three series (1–1–1 format) where the higher seed hosts Games 1 and 3 (if necessary).

The Wings improve to 23-16 on the year, marking a team record for wins in a season. The Wings are also on the cusp of securing their highest winning percentage in team history, needing two more regular-season victories to accomplish the feat.

Dallas Wings Head Coach Jose Fernandez, who was hired in October 2025, becomes the 38th first-year WNBA head coach in league history to secure a playoff bid and third in the last two seasons, with Atlanta’s Karl Smesko and Golden State’s Natalie Nakase also achieving the accomplishment in 2025.

Paige Bueckers

for Most Valuable Player, All-WNBA

Paige Bueckers has delivered one of the most complete individual seasons in the WNBA, ranking among the league leaders across nearly every major statistical category. She is averaging 20.5 points per game (6th in the WNBA) and 5.9 assists per game (8th), making her one of just two players in the league averaging at least 20 points and five assists per game. Bueckers has paired her scoring and playmaking with remarkable efficiency, shooting 50.6% from the field, 39.7% from three-point range, and 87.3% from the free-throw line while posting a 2.8 assist-to-turnover ratio, sixth-best in the league. She ranks among the WNBA leaders with 23 games of 20 or more points (4th), three 30-point performances (7th), and three points-assists double-doubles (7th). Her impact has been especially evident in clutch situations, as her 210 fourth-quarter points rank third in the league, while her 21.5 efficiency rating ranks ninth overall and second among guards.

She followed up her standout rookie campaign with one of the most impressive seasons in franchise and league history, cementing herself as one of the WNBA's premier young stars. A WNBA All-Star starter, Western Conference Player of the Week (July 2-12) and Associated Press Player of the Week (July 13), Bueckers has combined elite scoring efficiency, playmaking and consistency to lead the Dallas Wings while rewriting both team and league record books.

Bueckers has already set the Wings' single-season assist record with 225 assists and counting, while also establishing a new franchise mark with 33 games of at least 15 points. She tied the Wings' single-game assist record with a career-high 14 assists on June 5 at Los Angeles and is within reach of additional single-season franchise records, including points and field goals made.

On the league level, Bueckers has reached milestones at a historic pace. She became the fastest player in WNBA history to record 1,000 points and 250 assists, accomplishing the feat in just 52 games, and tied Elena Delle Donne as the fourth-fastest player ever to reach 1,000 career points. She also became the fastest player in league history to reach 250 assists while committing fewer than 100 turnovers, highlighting her rare combination of production and efficiency.

Her offensive impact has been unmatched. Bueckers is the only player in the WNBA this season shooting at least 50% from the field, 39% from three-point range and 87% from the free throw line. She leads the league with five games of at least 25 points, five rebounds and five assists, and has a WNBA-best nine games with at least 20 points while posting 50/40/90 shooting splits. She also tied the WNBA record for most three-pointers made without a miss by going a perfect 6-for-6 from beyond the arc against Seattle on August 23.

Among the game's all-time great starts to a career, Bueckers continues to climb the record books. Through her first 50 career games, her 19.1 points per game ranked fourth in WNBA history alongside Wings teammate Arike Ogunbowale, trailing only Cynthia Cooper, Seimone Augustus and Ogunbowale. She reached 400 field goals in just 55 games, second only to Augustus in league history, and became the fastest player ever to record both 400 field goals and 300 assists. She later became the second-fastest player to 500 career field goals and the fourth-fastest player to reach 400 assists and 100 made three-pointers.

Bueckers has also firmly established herself as one of the most accomplished players in Wings history. She became just the fourth player in franchise history to score at least 700 points in a season (Ogunbowale, Sabally and Cambage) and the only player ever to do so in her second season. Additionally this season, she set the franchise records as the fastest player to reach 200, 300 and 400 assists, as well as 300, 400 and 500 field goals made.

*stats through August 30, 2026

Jessica Shepard

for Most Improved Player, All-WNBA

Few players in the WNBA have made a bigger leap in 2026 than Jessica Shepard. After averaging 8.0 points, 7.3 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game in 2025, Shepard has transformed herself into one of the league's most complete and productive players, emerging as a legitimate candidate for both WNBA Most Improved Player and All-WNBA honors.

Statistically, Shepard has elevated every major area of her game. She is averaging 14.4 points per game (up from 8.0), 11.1 rebounds per game (up from 7.3), and 4.9 assists per game (up from 2.6). Her efficiency rating has skyrocketed from 14.0 to 24.0, ranking second in the entire WNBA, while her scoring rank has improved from 54th to 28th, her rebounding rank from ninth to second, and her assists rank from 36th to among the league's top 15. Shepard's all-around impact is further reflected by her 1.9 assist-to-turnover ratio, the best among starting forwards in the league.

Her ability to impact games across every statistical category places her in rare company. Shepard is one of only two players averaging a double-double this season and is on pace to become just the second player in WNBA history to average a points-rebounds double-double while also averaging at least four assists per game, joining only Candace Parker (2015). Additionally, among the handful of players who have averaged a double-double over the last decade, none have paired that production with Shepard's playmaking output of nearly five assists per contest.

The double-doubles and triple-doubles tell the story of her consistency and versatility. Shepard ranks second in the league with 22 double-doubles, more than doubling her total from last season, and leads the WNBA with four triple-doubles. Her four triple-doubles this season give her five for her career, the second-most in WNBA history. She is also tied for first all-time in WNBA history with three career 20-point triple-doubles, highlighting her ability to dominate games as both a scorer and facilitator.

Several historic performances have strengthened her All-WNBA résumé. In a win over Las Vegas on May 28, Shepard recorded 22 points, a career-high 20 rebounds and 10 assists, becoming the first player in WNBA history to post at least 22 points, 20 rebounds and 10 assists in a single game. She later set another career high with 26 points against Indiana, including 22 points in the first half while shooting 10-of-11 from the field, becoming the first player in Wings history to record at least 10 made field goals while shooting 90 percent or better in a half.

Beyond the box score, Shepard's impact has translated into recognition across the league. She earned her first career WNBA All-Star selection as a starter and has been named WNBA Western Conference Player of the Week twice, becoming just the second player in Wings history to earn the honor multiple times in a single season.

Shepard's historic season has also rewritten the Wings record book. She owns the franchise's single-season records for rebounds (420 and counting), double-doubles (22 and counting), and triple-doubles (four). She is the only player in franchise history with 400 rebounds in a season, one of only two players to record a 20-rebound game, and the fastest player in franchise history to reach 400 rebounds. She also surpassed 500 career assists, becoming the third-fastest player in WNBA history to reach 1,000 points, 1,000 rebounds and 500 assists.

*stats through August 30, 2026

Azzi Fudd

for Rookie of the Year, All-Defensive, All-Rookie

Azzi Fudd's rookie campaign with the Dallas Wings was defined by historic milestones, elite two-way production, and record-setting performances that make a compelling case for Rookie of the Year, All-Rookie Team, and All-Defensive Team honors.

Offensively, Fudd ranks among the league's top first-year players, averaging 13.1 points per game, the fourth-highest mark among rookies. She has established herself as one of the most dangerous perimeter threats in the rookie class, shooting 39.7% from three-point range, third among rookies, while knocking down 62 three-pointers, also third among all rookies.

Her scoring production has translated into game-changing performances, recording five 20-point games, the third-most by a rookie in Wings history. She also owns the franchise rookie record with 62 made three-pointers and set the Wings rookie single-game record with six made threes in a game, a mark that ranks fourth in WNBA rookie history.

While her offensive numbers alone place her among the top rookies in the league, it is Fudd's defensive impact that separates her from the field. She leads all rookies in both steals per game (1.73) and blocks per game (0.83). Her steals average ranks fourth among all WNBA players, while her blocks average ranks second among all guards in the league. That combination of perimeter disruption and rim protection is virtually unprecedented for a rookie guard.

Fudd's defensive numbers are not simply impressive among her peers; they are historically significant. Her 1.733 steals per game are the highest by a rookie in Wings history and rank 19th among all rookies in WNBA history. She became the fastest guard in WNBA history to reach 20 career blocks and the fastest player since 2002 to record at least 25 three-pointers and 25 steals. She also tied the Wings rookie single-game record with five steals and became the only rookie guard in franchise history to record at least four blocks in a regular-season game.

The historical milestones continue to strengthen her Rookie of the Year candidacy. Through just 23 games, Fudd surpassed 300 points, 40 steals, and 20 blocks, becoming the fastest guard in WNBA history and the third-fastest player ever to reach those marks. She later became the fastest player since 2002 to record at least 50 steals and 50 made three-pointers, accomplishing the feat in only 30 games.

Beyond regular-season production, Fudd showcased her elite shooting ability on one of the league's biggest stages by becoming the first rookie in WNBA history to win the WNBA 3-Point Contest. Her championship-round score of 30 points was the second-highest final-round score in contest history, and she became the first player in Wings franchise history to capture the event's title.

Awak Kuier

for All-Defensive Team

Awak Kuier has been one of the WNBA's most impactful defensive players this season and deserves serious consideration for an All-Defensive Team selection. Ranking fourth in the league in blocks per game (1.5), Kuier has anchored the Wings' interior defense with elite rim protection and consistent shot-altering presence. Her dominance was particularly evident in August, when she led the WNBA with 2.5 blocks per game, and she recorded five games with at least three blocks on the season. Her signature defensive performance came on August 20 against Indiana, when she posted a franchise-record seven blocks, one of only three seven-block games in the WNBA this season and a mark that ranks among the top shot-blocking performances in league history.

Kuier's impact extends beyond this season's numbers. She became just the second player in franchise history to reach 100 career blocks and later surpassed that mark to become the Wings' all-time leader in blocks. She now holds the franchise records for single-game blocks (7), single-season blocks (57), and career blocks (122), further cementing her place as one of the league's premier defensive anchors. With top-tier production, historic shot-blocking performances, and a season-long ability to protect the rim at an elite level, Kuier has built a strong résumé worthy of WNBA All-Defensive Team honors.

Jose Fernandez

for Coach of the Year

Jose Fernandez has engineered one of the most impressive turnarounds in WNBA history in his first season with the Dallas Wings, transforming a last-place team into a playoff contender while setting new franchise standards across the board. Under his leadership, the Wings have already secured the most wins in team history (24), are on pace for the highest winning percentage in franchise history, and have clinched the organization's first playoff appearance since 2023. Dallas is also on track to become the first team since 2015 to go from last place to the playoffs with a winning record, highlighting the dramatic impact Fernandez has made in just one season.

Beyond the win-loss record, the Wings have played some of the most efficient basketball in franchise history, setting team bests in points per game, assists per game, field goal percentage, assist-to-turnover ratio, and fewest turnovers per game. With Dallas on pace for the largest single-season turnaround in WNBA history and the biggest win improvement ever by a first-year head coach, Fernandez has built a résumé that firmly places him among the leading candidates for WNBA Coach of the Year.

Notable Storylines

Notable Storylines

- Triple-Double Leader... Jessica Shepard recorded a triple-double in Dallas' regular-season finale on September 23 with 20 points, 11 rebounds and 12 assists, finishing the season with a league-leading six triple-doubles. She is now the WNBA's all-time leader for most 20-point triple-doubles (4) and is tied with Alyssa Thomas (2023) for second all-time in WNBA history in triple-doubles in a single season (6).
- Big-Time Bueckers... Paige Bueckers tallied her seventh game of the 2026 season with at least 25 points, five rebounds and five assists in the Wings' win over the Storm on Wednesday- the most across the WNBA this season. Bueckers finished the regular season fourth in the league with 26 20+ point performances and fifth in the WNBA in points per game (20.9).
- Assist-Turnover Ratio... The Wings finished the 2026 regular season with the second-best assist to turnover ratio in league history (2.01). Dallas was one of two teams this season (Las Vegas) with two players in the top 11 in assists per game (8th- Bueckers- 5.9, 11th- Shepard- 5.3). As a team, the Wings led the WNBA in assists per game (22.3) and finished second in fewest turnovers per game (12.1).
- Historic Season for Awak... Awak Kuier anchored Dallas' defense throughout the 2026 season, leading the WNBA in games with 3+ blocks (11), 5+ blocks (4), 6+ blocks (2) and 7+ blocks (1). She set new Wings single-season records for total blocks (72) and blocks per game (1.8), while also establishing a new Wings single-game record with seven blocks. Kuier finished third in the WNBA in blocks per game and further cemented her place in team history by becoming the Wings' all-time career leader in blocks with 137.
- Another Game, Another Record... With 30 points in the game on Monday night in Phoenix, Paige Bueckers hit 853 points on the season, passing Arike Ogunbowale's 2023 total of 849 for most points in a single season in Wings history. The 30-point performance was Bueckers' fourth of the season and sixth of her career – second most in Wings history. She added seven assists and five rebounds – her 16th game this season with at least seven assists.
- One More to Go... Entering their final regular season game of the season, the Wings are on pace to break the team single season records for points per game, assists per game, winning percentage (already clinched), assist to turnover ratio and field goal percentage.
- Double-Double Machine... Jessica Shepard recorded another double-double on Monday night in Phoenix (17 points, 19 rebounds) and will finish the season with the fourth-most double-doubles in WNBA history (at least 24), moving past Tina Charles (23) with her latest performance. She is also on pace to become the first player in Wings history to average double-digit rebounds for a season, entering Wednesday's game averaging 11.1 rebounds per game.
- Defensive Blockbuster... Awak Kuier had another strong defensive performance on Monday night in Phoenix, recording a game-high five blocks. The outing marked her fourth game this season with at least five blocks, which leads the WNBA. Kuier has recorded 35 blocks over her last ten games, the most by any player in the WNBA over a 10 game span since the 2024 season.
- Breaking Records... After a 26-point performance on Saturday, Paige Bueckers now has 1,515 points in her WNBA career, the most by any player through their first two seasons in WNBA history. She tallied 20 of her 26 points in the first half of play, marking the fifth time this season she has scored 20+ in a single half and the outing also marked her 24th 20+ point game of the season, good for fourth in the WNBA.
- Impressive Turnaround... Jose Fernandez's 16-win improvement over Dallas' 2025 record marks the largest win increase by a first-year head coach in WNBA history, with the Wings improving from 10-34 in 2025 to 26-16 under his leadership in 2026. Saturday's win also ensured the Wings will finish with the highest winning percentage in Wings history, surpassing the previous mark of .550 set in 2023, regardless of the outcomes of their final two regular season games.
- Getting on the Glass... Jessica Shepard has been one of the WNBA's top rebounders this season, ranking as one of just two players averaging at least 10 rebounds per game. She leads the league in defensive rebounds (312), ranks second in total rebounds (420) and fifth in offensive rebounds (108). Shepard is also closing in on a Wings single-season record, needing just one more offensive rebound to surpass the mark of 112, which she currently shares with Tearia McCowan.
- Triple-Double No. 5... Jessica Shepard recorded her fifth triple-double of the season in Thursday's win over the Sparks, tallying 13 points, 11 rebounds and a career-high tying 12 assists. Shepard has accounted for half of the WNBA's total triple-doubles this season (10) and sits third all-time in league history for most triple-doubles in a single season.
- Getting on the Glass... The Wings won the rebounding battle 46-27 against the Sparks on Thursday evening, setting the team's highest rebounding advantage (+19) over an opponent in a regular season game since the 2023 season. Dallas grabbed a season-high 36 defensive rebounds, marking just the ninth time in Wings history that the team has recorded at least 36 defensive boards in a regular season game.
- Dimes and Rejections... Dallas recorded a season-high 31 assists in Thursday night's win with five players dishing three or more assists for the fourth time this season. The Wings also notched a season-high 11 blocks led by six from Awak Kuier – her second game this season of six or more rejections – most in the WNBA.
- FIBA World Cup Recap... Team USA won its fifth straight FIBA Women's Basketball World Cup on September 13 in Berlin, Germany with a 97-79 victory over France. Dallas Wings guard Paige Bueckers made her first USA appearance at a major international competition (World Cup or Olympic Games), securing a Gold Medal in her debut. Wings Head Coach Jose Fernandez also served as a Scout Coach for Team USA. The Americans went a perfect 6-0 for their 12th World Cup crown. Over six games with USA, Bueckers averaged 7.3 points on .552 shooting, including .429 from three, to go along with 1.8 rebounds, 2.3 assists, 1.0 steals and 0.8 blocks per game. Her blocks and three-point shooting ranked second on the team.
- Closing Out Strong... The Wings held the Connecticut Sun to just 24 points in the second half of their meeting on August 30. It marks the fewest points scored by any team in a second half this season and the fourth time the Wings have held an opponent to 24 points or fewer in the second half since in team history.
- Playoffs Bound... With the 96-78 win over the Portland Fire on August 25, the Dallas Wings clinched a WNBA Playoff berth and a top eight finish in the 2026 WNBA standings. Dallas is headed to the postseason for the first time since 2023 and sixth since 2016, when the team relocated to North Texas. The Wings improved to 23-16 on the year, marking a team record for wins in a season.
- Welcome Kitija... On August 25, the Dallas Wings signed guard Kitija Laksa to a rest-of-season contract. With Wings rookie guard Azzi Fudd sidelined for the remainder of the season, Dallas was granted a Season-Ending Injury Exception from the WNBA, allowing the signing of Laksa. The 6-1 guard from Latvia played the 2025 WNBA season with the Phoenix Mercury where she averaged 5.9 points and 1.2 rebounds over 33 games. Laksa attended the University of South Florida (2015-19) where she played for current Dallas Wings Head Coach Jose Fernandez.
- Heating Up from Beyond the Arc... The Wings have found their rhythm from beyond the arc as of late, knocking down at least 11 three-pointers in back-to-back victories over Seattle on August 23 and Portland on August 25. It marks the second time Dallas has achieved the feat this season (July 20 vs. New York and July 22 vs. Portland) and just the third occurrence in Wings history (2022).
- Dallas on Defense... The Wings grabbed a season-high 11 steals in the win over the Fire on August 25, with four players (Kuier-3, Shepard, Ogunbowale, Bueckers-2) grabbing two or more steals for the second time this season. Dallas also matched its season high with eight blocks and held its opponent below 40 percent shooting for the 11th time this season, improving to 8-3 in those games.
- Hot Start for the Wings... The Dallas Wings got off to a hot start in their 92-70 win over the Storm on August 23. Bueckers had one of the best opening quarters in Dallas Wings history, tallying 18 points to match the team record for points in a first quarter. The Wings totaled 34 points as a team, including six made triples, both the most for a Dallas first quarter since the 2024 season. Dallas is 13-5 on the year when outscoring opponents in the first quarter of play.
- Have a Day Paige... Paige Bueckers had a historic afternoon with a game-high 32 points, including a flawless 6-6 from three to tie the WNBA record for most threes made without a miss on Sunday against Seattle. Bueckers' 30-point outing was the fifth of her career – third most in Wings history. Of her 32 points, 23 came in the first half including 18 in the first quarter alone, as Bueckers single handedly outscored Seattle in the first quarter (18-17). Bueckers matches Tamika Catchings (2002), Maya Moore (2011), Kristi Toliver (2012) and Stefanie Dolson (2024) as the lone players in WNBA history to make six threes without a miss.
- Player Milestones... Multiple Wings players hit statistical milestones in the win on Sunday afternoon, led by guard Paige Bueckers who eclipsed 400 assists and 100 three-point field goals made in her WNBA career, becoming the fastest player in franchise history to hit those marks (72 games). Center Li Yueru eclipsed 500 points in her WNBA career, while forward Jessica Shepard grabbed her 400th rebound in a Wings uniform, doing so in a record 36 games.

San Francisco, CA (Aug. 17, 2026) - The Dallas Wings fell at the Golden State Valkyries 78-70 Monday night at Chase Center. The Wings outscored the Valkyries 24-16 in the fourth quarter to narrow a once 20-point deficit down to six, but Dallas couldn't complete the comeback. Paige Bueckers scored a team-high 21 points, including 19 in the second half, while Arike Ogunbowale added 17 points. Dallas moves to 20-16 on the year while Golden State improves to 25-9, clinching a playoff berth with the win.

Bueckers reached the 20-point mark for the 21st time this season – third-most in the WNBA in 2026. With three assists on the night, Ogunbowale reached 1,000 for her career, while her 17 points brought her to 4,999 in her career. Awak Kuier recorded three blocks – her fifth game of the year with three or more blocks – taking over the top spot on the Wings career blocks list with 106 and counting. Alanna Smith scored in double figures for the fifth time in her last six games, tallying 13 points off 6-9 shooting to eclipse 1,500 career points.

Dallas finished the night shooting .448 from the field, .227 from three and .867 from the free-throw line, but was hobbled by 18 turnovers resulting in 20 Golden State points. The Valkyries shot .375 overall, .333 from three including 12 makes, and .857 from the charity stripe, getting 10 offensive rebounds which led to seven second-chance points. The Wings won the rebounding battle overall 33-30 and outscored Golden State in the paint (32-22) and on the fast break (9-5), but the Valkyries bench outscored the Dallas reserves 27-12.

Gabby Williams led the Valkyries with a game-high 23 points, while Williams and Veronica Burton each made a trio of three-pointers. The Valkyries' 78 points were their fewest scored since July 18, while the Wings' 70 was their second-fewest of the season.

First Quarter: Dallas 19, Golden State 20

The Wings utilized a starting lineup of Paige Bueckers, Arike Ogunbowale, Alysha Clark, Jessica Shepard and Alanna Smith for the first time this season. Dallas continued to be without Aziha James and Azzi Fudd due to injury. It marked the ninth different starting lineup of the year for the Wings.

The Wings started off hot, making four of their first five shots while the Valkyries sputtered to a 1-7 clip with Dallas leading 9-3 early. The Wings saw their lead grow to as many as seven, 15-8, before Golden State closed the quarter on a 12-4 run to lead 20-19 after 10 minutes, punctuated by a buzzer-beater from midcourt. Smith had a game-high nine points after one, matching her season high for points in a single quarter. Dallas shot .563 overall while Golden State posted a .389 clip. The Wings attacked the paint early with 12 of their 19 points coming inside.

Second Quarter: Dallas 9, Golden State 24

Golden State started to find their rhythm offensively in the second while turnovers took a toll on the Wings. Dallas committed five miscues for nine Valkyries points, while Golden State bumped its shooting percentage to .556, making four threes. An 11-2 Valkyries run midway through the frame forced a Wings timeout after they fell into a 33-25 deficit, the largest margin either team had led by up until that point. Ogunbowale knocked down a three to halt the run and get Dallas back within five, 33-28, before Golden State responded with threes on its next three possessions, forcing another Wings timeout, down 42-28 (1:36). The Valkyries would lead by as many as 16 as the Wings were limited to single-digit scoring in a quarter for just the third time this season. Dallas shot just .214 in the second, including 1-5 from deep, to find themselves down 44-28 at the half.

Third Quarter: Dallas 18, Golden State 18

Clark struck first for the Wings as Dallas chipped away at the 16-point deficit, narrowing it down to eight, 52-44, with 4:04 to go. Bueckers heated up in the third after starting 1-7 from the field and 0-2 from deep – going 3-5 overall towards nine points. After Dallas got back within eight, 54-46, Golden State responded by closing the quarter on an 8-0 run to regain its 16-point lead, 62-46. Dallas shot .417 from the field to Golden State's .368 clip, but the Valkyries made a trio of three-pointers to keep the Wings at bay. Turnovers continued to be an issue for Dallas with five miscues resulting in five points for the Valkyries.

Fourth Quarter: Dallas 24, Golden State 16

A 9-0 Wings run narrowed a 20-point deficit down to 11, 66-55, with five minutes to play as Dallas kept Golden State off the scoreboard for nearly five minutes in the middle of the fourth. Bueckers led the charge with 10 points over the final 10 minutes, with Dallas getting as close as six with 39 seconds to play. Golden State would make its free-throws, going 7-8 over the final 1:12 of the game, to keep Dallas at a safe distance. The Valkyries shot just 3-17 (.176) over the final 10 minutes, but 9-10 from the free-throw line.

Jose Fernandez

Head Coach

Jose Fernandez enters his first season as the Head Coach of the Dallas Wings.

A veteran leader, Fernandez brings nearly 35 years of coaching experience to Dallas, with the last 25 years spent as head coach of the University of South Florida women's basketball team. Fernandez helped build the Bulls into one of the most consistently successful programs in the nation.

A proven winner and established leader in player development, Fernandez earned nearly 500 career wins at USF while guiding more than 100 players into professional basketball careers worldwide. Under Fernandez, South Florida has had seven WNBA Draft selections, including current active players Courtney Williams of the Minnesota Lynx and Kitja Laksa of the Phoenix Mercury. In total, nearly 30 of Fernandez's former players are actively playing professionally in 2025-26.

Fernandez was hired as USF's Head Coach on Nov. 14, 2000, and would become the program's all-time winningest coach. Fernandez led the Bulls to 19 or more wins in 14 consecutive seasons and 19 post-season berths, including 10 NCAA Tournament appearances. Over the previous four seasons, he guided USF to two AAC Regular Season Championships and two AAC Tournament Championships.

Fernandez has recruited and coached 58 all-conference players, two Associated Press Honorable Mention All-Americans, three members of the USF Athletics Hall of Fame, two conference Players of the Year, one AAC Defensive Player of the Year, five conference Freshmen of the Year, two AAC Newcomers of the Year, two AAC Sixth Players of the Year, and four conference Most Improved Players.

Highly respected in the industry, the Miami native was a finalist for the 2021 WBCA Division I National Coach of the Year, a two-time American Athletic Conference Coach of the Year and is the current President of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

Fernandez has also been active in international basketball. He has won two gold medals with USA Basketball's U18 and U19 National Teams, serving as an assistant coach. At USF, Fernandez has recruited and coached players from over 22 different countries.

Prior to his time at South Florida, Fernandez served as a men's basketball assistant coach at Miami-Dade College (1991-92) and Miami Sunset High School (1992-94), before becoming an assistant at Barry University (1994-96). After coaching girls' basketball at Lourdes Academy from 1996-99, Fernandez served as the top assistant for Barry's women's team from 1999-00.

Jose and his wife Tonya are proud parents to five daughters, Sydnie, Alex, Taylor, Brianna, and Brooke, and have eight rescue dogs.

ACQUIRED:
Signed a rest of season contract with the Wings on August 25, 2026. Was selected by the Toronto Tempo in April's expansion draft before being waived by the Tempo prior to the start of the regular season. She was the No. 11 overall pick in the 2020 WNBA Draft by the Seattle Storm, but did not play in the WNBA until 2025, electing to remain in Europe where she competed in Latvia and Italy.

2025 WITH PHOENIX:
Averaged 5.9 points and 1.2 rebounds over 33 games for the Mercury during the 2025 regular season.

OVERSEAS CAREER:
A member of the Latvian National Team since 2013, Laksa helped lead Turkish club Fenerbahçe to EuroLeague and Turkish Cup titles in 2024. Since then, she has played for Beretta Famila Schio in Italy, helping win the Italian League Championship in 2025. She was an All-Europe First Team honoree in 2025, while also garnering All-Europe Shooting Guard of the Year accolades in the same year. Over 22 games with Schio in 2025, Laksa averaged 11.9 points per game off .531 shooting, including .392 from three.

COLLEGE CAREER:
Attended the University of South Florida (2015-19) where she played for current Dallas Wings Head Coach Jose Fernandez. While at USF, Laksa finished sixth on the Bulls' all-time scoring list (1,764 points), third in career points per game (17.8), first in free throw percentage (89.6%) and second in three-point percentage (39.1%).
