Team:

- The Mystics are set to play 44 regular season games for the first time in league history. The 44-game season is an increase from the WNBA's 40-game season the past two years.
- Washington will appear on national TV (ESPN3, CBSSN, ION, NBA TV) 17 times this season.
- Washington has 10 afternoon games this season, with seven of the 10 games having a 3:00 p.m. tip-time.
- The Mystics will play four games away from CareFirst Arena this season. Washington's annual Camp Day game will be played on Tuesday, July 8 at Eagle Bank Arena in Fairfax, VA. The Mystics will also play two games at CRF Bank Arena in Baltimore, MD on May 28 and Sept. 7.
- Washington has four rookies on their roster, the most since 2011 (four rookies).
- Washington holds four international players on their opening night roster (Australia, Mali/Spain, Canada), the second consecutive season the Mystics have held four or more players on their opening night roster.
  - This marks the fourth consecutive year (2022-25) Washington's opening night roster has held an international player.
- The Mystics' opening night roster has an average age of 24-348 which ranks as the youngest in the WNBA. This marks the youngest roster Washington has had on opening night since 2016 (24-183).
  - Washington's opening night roster totaled 947 regular season games, the fewest games in the league, with Mystics Veteran Stefanie Dolson totaling 333 of those. The second fewest regular season games played is Dallas (1,108).
- All but two of Washington's players have three or fewer years of experience. Veterans Stefanie Dolson (11 seasons) and Brittney Sykes (8 seasons) are the only players on the roster with four-plus years of service.
  - The Mystics 10 players with three or fewer years of service are the most in the league. The last team to have 10+ players with three or fewer years of service time and player 1+ game for them in a season was the 2023 Mercury (10).
  - Washington's average years of service is 2.75 which ranks fewest in the WNBA.
- The Mystics aim to average 20+ assists per game for the fourth time in franchise history, having previously accomplished the feat in 2024, 2022, and 2019. Washington averaged 21.6 assists per game in 2023.
- Washington attempted a franchise-record 26.6 three-pointers per game during the 2024 season. The team is looking to attempt at least 20 threes per game for the ninth consecutive season.
- The Mystics averaged 7.3 steals per game in 2024 and will look to record seven or more steals per game for the 20th time in franchise history — and for the fifth time since 2020.
- Washington is targeting a top-five finish in pace for the first time since the 2013 season, when they ranked fourth (93.29; 4th).
- The Mystics also look to finish top-three in bench points for the second consecutive season. In 2024, Washington led the WNBA in bench scoring, averaging 27.4 points per game.

Individual:

- Veteran center Stefanie Dolson looks to build on her three-point success from last season. Dolson shot 46.5% from beyond the arc in 2024, the third-highest percentage in the league, and the second consecutive season she has shot at least 40.0% from three-point territory.
  - Her 72 three-point makes in 2024 were the most by any center.
  - Dolson totaled at least 300 points, 150 rebounds, 100 assists, and 50 three-pointers last season, joining T. Catchings (2012) and J. Loyd (2024) as the only players to amass those benchmarks in the 10th or later season of their career.
  - At the age of 33, Dolson would become the oldest player in WNBA history to record those totals in a single season.
- Veteran guard Brittney Sykes aims to finish top five in steals per game. Sykes has averaged at least 1.5 steals per game in four seasons.
  - Since 2020, only A. Ogunbowale (DAL), B. Stewart (NYL), and A. Thomas (PHX) have also averaged 1.5+ steals per game in four seasons.
  - Sykes averaged 12.2 points per game during the 2024 season, marking her third consecutive season averaging double digits.
  - She looks to become the third Mystic to average at least 10.0 points and 3.0 assists in three or more seasons, joining Alana Beard (4) and Kristi Toliver (3).
- Center Shakira Austin is coming off a career-best season, posting career highs in points (11.8), steals (1.3), and both free throw attempts (4.5) and makes (3.0).
  - In 2025, she aims to average at least 12.0 points and 7.0 rebounds, which would make her the seventh Mystic in franchise history to reach those averages.
- Forward Aaliyah Edwards averaged 7.6 points and 5.6 rebounds per game on .490 shooting during her rookie campaign.
  - She aims to become just the third Mystic (joining Shakira Austin, 2022-2023 and Murriel Page, 1998-1999) to average at least 7.0 points and 5.0 rebounds while shooting at least 47.5% in each of her first two seasons.
  - Edwards also looks to finish among the top five rebounders in her sophomore class.
- Rookie Watch:
  - The Mystics aim to have a rookie average at least 8.0 points per game during the 2025 season. If accomplished, it would mark the 13th rookie in franchise history to do so, and the first since Shakira Austin (2022).
  - Only six rookies in Mystics history have averaged 10.0+ points per game, with the last coming in 2018 (A. Atkins).
- Washington is also targeting a rookie average 3.0 assists per game – which would be just the seventh time in team history that a rookie reached that assist mark (last: Natasha Cloud, 2015).
- For the second consecutive season, the Mystics look to have a rookie average 5.0 rebounds per game.
  - Since 2020, Washington has had two rookies achieve this feat. The Mystics would join Chicago and Indiana as the only teams since 2020 to have at least three rookies average 5.0 rebounds in their debut seasons.

MYSTIC BLOOM: THE YOUTH MOVEMENT

- The Mystics made key strides toward its future in the 2025 WNBA Draft, selecting three players in the first round – Sonia Citron (3rd overall), Kiki Iriafen (4th overall), and Georgia Amoore (6th overall) – the most first-round selections in franchise history.
- Washington had the youngest opening night roster in the WNBA, 24-348, which marked the youngest roster Washington has had on opening night since 2016 (24-183).
- All but two players on the roster, veterans Stefanie Dolson (11 seasons) and Brittney Sykes (8 seasons), have three or fewer years of WNBA experience.
- The Mystics have an average of 3.6 years of WNBA experience on their current roster and has a total of 1,055 regular season games played among their 12 roster players, marking the fewest total regular season games played by a team this season.

A NEW ERA

On December 23, 2024, Monumental Basketball announced Jamila Wideman as the Washington Mystics’ new General Manager and Sydney Johnson as Head Coach.

Wideman joins the Mystics after six years at the NBA league office, where she most recently served as Senior Vice President of Player Development. A former player herself, Wideman was selected third overall in the 1997 WNBA Draft by the Los Angeles Sparks and is now one of just three active WNBA general managers or team presidents with WNBA playing experience, along with Morgan Tuck (Connecticut) and Raegan Pebley (Los Angeles).

Current WNBA General Managers/Presidents to Play in the WNBA

GM/President	Team	WNBA Career
Morgan Tuck	Connecticut	Connecticut Sun (2016–2020)
Raegan Pebley	Los Angeles	Utah Starzz (1997) Cleveland Rockers (1998)
Jamila Wideman	Washington	Los Angeles Sparks (1997-1998) Cleveland Rockers (1999) Portland Fire (2000)

After her playing career, Wideman earned a law degree from New York University and spent over a decade working in civil rights and criminal defense law, including time with the Equal Justice Initiative (EJI) in Montgomery, Alabama, and the Legal Aid Society in New York City.

Johnson becomes the 15th head coach in Mystics history, bringing 25 years of basketball experience. Most recently, he served as head coach of Team USA’s 3x3 Women’s AmeriCup team, which won silver at the 2024 FIBA 3x3 AmeriCup in Puerto Rico. He also spent the 2024 season as an assistant coach with the Chicago Sky. Prior to that, he led the Fairfield University men’s basketball program for eight years (2011–2019), earning four postseason appearances – the most in program history.
