

I HAVE A DREAM...

BY: Morgan Elise Roberts – Hightower Elementary School – 5th Grade

I have a dream... that women would be able to play football without getting judged. Boys and men think that women and girls can not play football. I think boys think we are soft and just cry when we get hurt. They think we are incapable and only think about our nails.

I think that girls can do anything and everything. The reason I want to play football is because my dad loves football and played football when he was younger. So I love football so much that I want to be a football player when I grow up, but I can't do that. So when I grow up I'm going to share this speech with everyone so they can be more accepting of women playing football. If people will not listen, I will keep sharing my dream until something changed.

My friends and family always said to follow your dreams. That is my quote to all women and girls, follow your dreams. Also, that girls can do anything boys can do, for example baseball, basketball, soccer, be the president, and even play football. BUT Martin Luther King Jr. wanted everyone to have equal rights. Also, Dr. King wanted all black and white people too be equal. Martin Luther King Jr. wanted black and white people to get along and come together as a United States. My grandma was a little during Martin Luther King Jr's time. Birmingham was in deep disaster. My dream, like Dr. King's, is that women and men have equal rights.
