ATLANTA DREAM CLINCH PLAYOFF

BERTH WITH WIN IN REGULAR-SEASON

FINALE

- ATLANTA JOURNAL-CONSTITUTION

The Atlanta Dream will stay in New York.

This is not a sightseeing trip. They are in the WNBA playoffs.

The Atlanta Dream earned a rematch with the New York Liberty, this in the postseason, with a 78-67 victory Thursday night at the Barclays Center. The Dream clinched the No. 8 seed with the win, the final playoff spot undetermined.

The Dream will open the best-of-three playoff series on Sunday against the No. 1 seeded Liberty at 1 p.m. on ESPN. Game 2 will also be in New York on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on ESPN. Should a Game 3 be necessary, it will be in Atlanta on Thursday on ESPN2. Game time is to be determined.

The Dream led by as many as 20 points, that in the second half, and held off a late Liberty charge. The win meant the results of games involving the Chicago Sky and Washington Mystics simply did not matter. The Dream finished 15-25. They held a one-game lead over the Sky and Mystics enter the final day of the regular season. The Sky lost to the Connecticut Sun, 87-54, and the Mystics defeated the Indiana Fever, 92-91.

The game featured two milestones for the Dream’s Tina Charles, who finished with 10 points and 10 rebounds. She set the WNBA record for career rebounds (4,014) and double-doubles (193).

Charles passed five-time All-WNBA First Team selection Sylvia Fowles on both lists to set the career mark. Over Fowles’ decorated 15-year career, she grabbed 4,006 rebounds and secured 193 double-doubles.

Charles also made franchise history, breaking Erika de Souza’s single-season double-double record of 18 and became the first Dream player to ever put up more than 500 points and 300 rebounds in a single season.

Rhyné Howard and Naz Hillmon led the Dream with 13 points apiece. Allisha Gray added 10 points.

Breanna Stewart led the Liberty (32-8) with 16 points. This is the Dream’s second consecutive playoff appearance under head coach Tanisha Wright, who led the team to a first-round battle in last year’s playoffs against the Dallas Wings.

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Atlanta Dream Clinch Berth in 2024 WNBA Playoffs

(September 19) – The Atlanta Dream clinched the final spot in the 2024 WNBA Playoffs with a 78-67 win over the New York Liberty Thursday. The eight-seed Dream will stay in New York to play the top-seeded Liberty in a best-of-three series, with the first two games in New York and, if required, game three in Atlanta.

This is the Dream's second consecutive playoff appearance under head coach Tanisha Wright, who led the team to a first-round battle in last year's playoffs against the Dallas Wings. The Dream last qualified for back-to-back postseasons in 2013 and 2014. Atlanta has made three WNBA Finals appearances and seven Conference Finals appearances since 2010.

The 2024 WNBA Playoffs are set to begin on Sept. 22, with the top eight teams in the league competing in a best-of-three series. The winners of each first-round series will advance to a best-of-five semifinal round, and the winners of each semifinal round series will then advance to the WNBA Finals, another best-of-five series.

Led by its big three of two-time WNBA All-Star and Olympian Rhyne Howard, 2024 WNBA All-Star Allisha Gray and WNBA record-holder Tina Charles, the Dream opened the second half of the season on a three-game winning streak. The start thrust the Atlanta roster to become one of the league's most competitive teams after the Olympic break.

Charles powered the squad through the stretch with her experience and production, breaking records and making history in nearly every game since the season resumed in August. In addition to claiming the league's rebound and double-double records, the center recorded her and the franchise's first-ever triple-double three weeks ago. Two weeks before that, she claimed the No. 2 spot on the WNBA's All-Time Scoring List. She's also claimed both the franchise single season records for rebounding and double-doubles.

Tina Charles Moves to First on WNBA's Total Rebounds, Double-Doubles Lists

(September 19) – Atlanta Dream center Tina Charles continued to put her fingerprints on history as she became the WNBA's career leader in total rebounds and double-doubles during Thursday night's game against the New York Liberty. Prior to the game, she was inducted into the New York City Basketball Hall of Fame.

Charles passed five-time All-WNBA First Team selection Sylvia Fowles on both lists to set the career mark. Over Fowles' decorated 15-year career, she grabbed 4,006 rebounds and secured 193 double-doubles.

A 14-year member of the league, Charles joined the Dream as a free agent in February, and the first overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft has continued to add to her storied career. In addition to league records, Charles has made franchise history, breaking Érika de Souza's single-season double-double record of 18 and becoming the first Dream player to ever put up more than 500 points and 300 rebounds in a single season.

These accolades come during a historic season for the league veteran.

On Aug. 16, Charles recorded her 3,000th career field goal against the Seattle Storm, where she scored a game-winning shot to cap off a 16-point performance. Less than a week later, she passed forward Tina Thompson for No. 2 on the WNBA All-Time Scoring List in front of a home crowd, converting a layup against the Phoenix Mercury on Aug. 21.

On Aug. 28, Charles became the first Dream player to ever record a triple-double with the first of her career, totaling 19 points, 17 rebounds and 10 assists in nearly 38 minutes of play. She cemented her name as only the 18th WNBA player in history to record a triple-double. Notably, all of her career double-doubles have come from the point and rebound statistical categories.

The 2012 WNBA Most Valuable Player has received nine All-WNBA First- and Second-Team Selections during her career. An eight-time WNBA All-Star, Charles was named to four All-Defensive Teams and three U.S. Olympic Teams where she earned gold medals in 2012, 2016 and 2021. Charles was unanimously selected as the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year with the Connecticut Sun before stints with the Seattle Storm, Phoenix Mercury, Washington Mystics and New York Liberty.

Atlanta Dream sign Ezinne Kalu to Hardship Contract

(September 18) – The Atlanta Dream have signed guard Ezinne Kalu to a end of season hardship contract, the organization announced today.

The 5'8" guard brings a wealth of international experience, most recently leading the 2024 Nigerian Olympic team past the group stage in Paris earlier this year. Kalu averaged 18.5 points per game in Paris, ranking her fourth in the category, behind only Emma Meesseman (BEL), A'ja Wilson (USA), and Satou Sabally (GER). Kalu's standout performance came against Australia, where she led D'Tigress to an upset win, scoring 19 points, with five assists, five rebounds, and three steals.

Charles ties Fowles, poised to make history once more

(September 17) – In the Atlanta Dream's double-digit victory over Chicago on September 17, Tina Charles tallied her 20th double-double of the 2024 season, bringing her career total to 193 to tie Sylvia Fowles for the most career double-doubles in WNBA history.

With a 16-point, 14-rebound performance, Charles is also just three rebounds away from surpassing Fowles' WNBA career rebound record.

The center also eclipsed 4,000 career rebounds with her tenth rebound of the night against the Sky. She is now the first player ever to reach 4000+ career rebounds and 7000+ career points, and one of two players in WNBA history to reach the rebounding milestone.

Atlanta Dream Sell Out All 2024 Home Games, break franchise history with 20 home sellouts

(September 17) – The Atlanta Dream announced that with Tuesday night's sellout against the Chicago Sky, the franchise has sold out all 20 of its home games in the 2024 season.

The feat marks the first time in franchise history that Atlanta has sold out all of its home games. More than 3,250 fans filled Gateway Center Arena on 18 different occasions, and Dream fans packed State Farm Arena over capacity two times this season.

The 2024 season continued an uptick in sellouts for the franchise. In 2023, Atlanta led the WNBA in sellouts, packing Gateway Center Arena 12 times, which outpaced the Dream's eight sellouts in 2022, the second-most in the league. In April, the Dream became only the second WNBA franchise to sell out its allotment for season tickets, breaking franchise records for single-game ticket sales in the process.

Tina Charles within reach of two historic milestones

(September 15) – With two games remaining in the WNBA regular season, Tina Charles is 17 rebounds and 2 double-doubles away from claiming the No. 1 spot in WNBA History for both milestones. Currently, Sylvia Fowles owns both but as Charles and the Dream head into the final stretch of the season.

Howard goes 3-for-3

(September 8) – Rhyne Howard put up her third consecutive game with 30+ points against Indiana on September 8, this time going for another season-high of 36 points with five assists, four rebounds and one steal.

She now owns the franchise record for the most points scored by any Atlanta Dream player over a three-game span with 100. Angel McCoughtry previously held the record with 95 points in the 2011 season.

The guard also became just the third player in WNBA history to have 30+ PTS and 4+ 3PM in 3 consecutive games.

Howard and Dream survive Wings in overtime thriller, 107-96

(September 6) –The Atlanta Dream overcame a 16-point deficit to defeat the Wings by 11 points in the team's first overtime game of the 2024 season. Led by Rhyne Howard's season-high of 33-points, all five starters scored for the first time this season to reach the most scored in a game by Atlanta this year.

The win improves Atlanta's record to 12-22 overall and 7-10 at home.

Howard tallied 33 points, three rebounds, six assists and one steal, going 12-for-26 from the field and 6-for-17 from 3-point range. She became the first Dream player since Angel McCoughtry in 2013 to put up consecutive 30+ point performances, as she dropped 31 against Phoenix on September 3.

The all-around effort saw several season and career achievements for the Dream. Tina Charles marked her sixteenth double-double of the season with 20 points and 13 rebounds, claiming No. 2 in Dream Franchise history for most double-doubles in a single season.

Forward Naz Hillmon also notched a career-high with 18 points on the night, paired with eight rebounds. The forward went 6-for-7 from the field and 6-for-10 from the free throw line.

And last but not least, guard Jordin Canada recorded her first double-double of her Dream career with 15 points and a season-high 10 assists.

Charles becomes one of one, continues to break history

(August 28) –Tina Charles put on a dominant performance against Seattle on August 28, marking a historic day for both herself and the Dream. With 19 points, 17 rebounds and 10 assists, she became the first player in franchise history to record a triple double with the first of her career, cementing her name as only the 18th WNBA player to ever record a triple double.

"I just give glory to God," Charles said postgame. "Where I was last year, where I am now, back in the WNBA. I just thank my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I'm just very thankful. I wish we came out with the win, but at this age in my career, I'm just taken aback. Very emotional about it, but it's just God."

She became the first player in WNBA history to record 15+ points, 15+ rebounds, 10+ assists and 4+ steals in a single game. The center also marked her 13th double-double of the season in the third quarter, passing Dream great Érika de Souza's 2009 season (12) for fourth in Dream history for most double-doubles in a season. de Souza also owns both the No. 1 & No. 2 spots.

Charles' 17 rebounds were a league-high for the night (8/28), as she tied her season-high in a game for rebounds, tied her career-high in assists and tied her season-high in a game with four steals.

Dream stay undefeated in return from Olympic Break with 72-63 win over Phoenix (August 21) –Powered by another dominant second half performance, the Dream continued its undefeated streak since returning from the Olympic Break with a 72-63 victory over the Phoenix Mercury at Gateway Center.

Atlanta's record improves to 10-17 overall and 6-8 at home.

Allisha Gray went for a team-high of 21 points, with two assists and three rebounds. She shot 6-for-14 from the field and 3-for-8 from 3-point range. Rhyne Howard followed with 19 points, three assists, two rebounds and one steal. The guard surpassed 1,500 career points to become one of seven players in Dream franchise history to reach the milestone.

Tina Charles advanced to No. 2 on the WNBA's All-Time Scoring List, passing Tina Thompson with a three-pointer in the fourth quarter. The center marked her eleventh double-double of the season with 12 points and season-high 17 rebounds in addition to the legendary milestone.

The Dream offense wasted no time finding its momentum as the game began, going on a 17-4 run while holding Phoenix scoreless for almost six full minutes in the first. Atlanta's defense limited the visitors to shooting just 13.3% from the field, resulting in a new season-low in points scored for a quarter by Phoenix.

After a Phoenix run, Atlanta rallied to score 10 of the 11 final points in the second quarter, fueled by Gray and Howard who produced 14 of the 15 Dream points in the second. Going into the second half, the Dream held onto its lead, 34-26.

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Charles ignited the fourth quarter by hitting the All-time milestone just seconds into the final stanza. Immediately after the Dream surged onto a 11-0 run that then swelled into a 21-4 run.

Tina Charles Moves to Second on WNBA All-Time Scoring List

(August 21) – Atlanta Dream center Tina Charles moved to second place on the WNBA's All-Time Leading Scoring list during Wednesday's game against the Phoenix Mercury. Charles passed forward Tina Thompson with a three-pointer in the fourth quarter.

A 12-year member of the league, Charles joined the Dream as a free agent in February, and the first overall pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft has continued to add to her storied career. Thompson previously held the second spot on the table with 7,488 points, but Charles eclipsed that total in 417 games, outpacing Thompson by 79 games.

"Tina's game is truly timeless," said Atlanta Dream General Manager Dan Padover. "Having witnessed over 3500 of Tina's points firsthand what has always impressed me most is her consistency. From the moment she stepped into the league in 2010, Tina has been the ultimate competitor, pushing to give everything she had night in and night out. Tina is obviously a once in a WNBA history talent but her ability to show up in every single game she played in is why she is reaching this historic WNBA milestone"

During her 2024 campaign, Charles averages 14 points, 8.4 rebounds per game and recorded 10 double-doubles on the season. Starting all 26 games this season, Charles has scored in double-digits in 20 games, leading the Dream in scoring on six occasions. On Aug. 16, Charles recorded her 3,000th career field goal against the Seattle Storm, where she scored a game-winning shot to cap off a 16-point performance.

Charles tallied her nearly 7,500 points with stops in Connecticut, New York, Phoenix, Seattle and Washington. She has scored more than 30 points in 23 games during her career, and she ranks second all-time with 78 games scoring 25 or more points. She trails only Diana Taurasi (10,497, 553 games) on the All-Time Scoring list.

The 2012 WNBA Most Valuable Player has received nine All-WNBA Selections, including five First-Team nominations. An eight-time WNBA All-Star, Charles was named to four All-Defensive Teams and three US Olympic Teams where she earned gold medals in 2012, 2016 and 2021. Charles was unanimously selected as the 2010 WNBA Rookie of the Year.

Canada drops season-high as Atlanta Dream defeat Connecticut Sun 82-70

(August 18) – The Atlanta Dream defeated the Connecticut Sun 82-70, picking up its second-straight win since returning from the Olympic Break.

Paced by guard Jordin Canada's season-high of 19 points, six steals, six assists and four rebounds, the Dream were able to improve to 9-17 overall and 5-8 at home.

The Dream held onto its lead throughout the third after never trailing in the first half, powered by eight points from Canada and five from Charles.

Connecticut trimmed the Dream lead down to one point with four minutes left to play in the third, but the Dream responded with three consecutive 3-pointers, two by Canada and one by Charles. The duo produced all the Dream offense in the final minutes of the third quarter to give the Dream a 7-point lead going into the final quarter.

After the Sun reclaimed the lead 63-68, the Dream burst onto a 19-2 run jump started with a Gray and-one, and Gray went on to score seven of her 11 points in the fourth quarter alone.

The Dream were able to push its lead to six points with under a minute to go, and the team shot 10-for-11 from the free throw line to end the Sun's hopes of coming back.

Dream weather the Storm in 83-81 win over Seattle

(August 16) – The Atlanta Dream opened the second-half of the 2024 season with a 83-81 win over the Seattle Storm, powered by Rhyne Howard's 30-point performance. The guard finished with 30 points, eight rebounds, two blocks, two steals and two assists in her first action since winning the Bronze medal with Team USA's 3x3 women's basketball team at the Paris Olympics.

The Dream's record improves to 8-17 overall and 4-8 at home.

Trailing by double-digits going into the second half, Howard put up 14 points in the third quarter alone to jump-start a Dream comeback that saw the group go on a 15-6 run in the third quarter and a 21-9 run in the fourth quarter.

Allisha Gray and Jordin Canada combined for 17 of the Dream's 28 fourth-quarter points to preserve the Atlanta lead in the final stretch. With under 30 seconds left to play, the guards each went 2-for-2 at the free throw line.

Seattle's Jewell Lloyd responded with a 27-foot 3-pointer to tie the game at 81-81 with four seconds left to play.

With 1.8 seconds remaining, Canada found Charles in sideline out-of-bounds action. The center then sank the game-winning field goal with a jumper on the block as the clock ran out.

Rhyne Howard wins Bronze at 2024 Paris Olympic Games

Rhyne Howard and the USA Basketball 3x3 Women's National Team clinched the bronze medal at the 2024 Paris Olympic Games, defeating Canada 16-13.

"It's just great," Howard said postgame. "To be able to put on for a city that loves you so much. I know that they're proud regardless of the outcome that we have and being able to get this here and go back to them, to that fanbase, to Atlanta, it's great. It's a great feeling. And I know I'm going to be super happy when I get home."

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Totalling four points, one rebound, and one assist, Howard became the first Dream player to reach the Olympic podium since Angel McCoughtry in 2016. Howard is now one of three players on the current Dream roster to win an Olympic medal, joining both Allisha Gray and Tina Charles.

Rhyne Howard Wants to Uphold the Gold Standard

By Hayden Cilley, USA Basketball

If you asked first-time Olympian Rhyne Howard whether she wanted to play for USA Basketball's 3x3 Women's National Team or 5x5 Women's National Team, she would say there was no preference on what team she ended up on.

"I just wanted to go and compete and be able to say I'm an Olympian," Howard said. "3x3 is really fun. We were only on the first day, but you can tell that there's already chemistry with us, really intimate and it's something that not everybody gets to say that they can do. Just being able to have this so early in my career is a blessing."

Now in her third year in the WNBA, Howard's career has been nothing short of impressive, both professionally and internationally with USA Basketball. With the 2024 USA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournament Team, Howard averaged a team-best 19.5 points, along with 4.5 rebounds and 1.5 steals in 16.5 minutes per game.

Howard shines in Inaugural WNBA All-Star 3x3 exhibition

Rhyne Howard was also stood out for the Dream in Friday's All-Star events, in the first-ever WNBA All-Star 3x3 exhibition. Howard was dominant in Team USA's win, scoring 12 of the group's 19 points. Team USA was victorious in the exhibition match, winning 19-16.

"Shooter's shoot," Howard told ESPN after the match. "So that's never going to go away, but just being able to come back from an injury like I have, it says something about my work ethic."

Allisha Gray becomes first-ever player to win both WNBA Kia Skills Challenge and Starry 3-Point Contest

Atlanta Dream guard and two-time WNBA All-Star Allisha Gray became the first player in WNBA history to win both the WNBA Kia Skills Challenge and Starry 3-Point Contest in the same night at WNBA All-Star weekend.

"The competitor in me wanted [Jonquel Jones] to miss of course," Gray told ESPN after her victory in the 3-Point Contest. "But the person in me, I like to see other people be successful as well, so with her winning I'd still be just as happy." The guard also becomes the first Dream player to win a WNBA All-Star event in franchise history.

Gray first participated against Sophie Cunningham, Brittney Griner, Marina Mabrey and Kelsey Mitchell in the Kia Skills Challenge. Gray and Cunningham advanced to the final round after finishing the first round with a time of 31.2 and 35.5 seconds, respectively.

Gray, winning with a time of 32.1 seconds, beat out Cunningham's time of 34.5 seconds in the final round to become the 2024 champion.

"I started so fast, so it gave me a little padding on the end," Gray told ESPN. "It was all a part of the strategy, because I knew the second time around I would be a little fatigued from the shots, so I had to make my passes accurate."

Soon after, Gray took on Stefanie Dolson, Jonquel Jones, Marina Mabrey and Kayla McBride in the STARRY® 3-Point Contest.

Gray opened the first round with a score of 23, going 3-for-5 from the money ball rack. Jones finished with a score of 26, and both advanced to the final round. Gray went first in the final round, where she went 3-for-5 again from the money ball rack to finish with a final score of 22. Jones fell just one shot short of Gray with a score of 21.

Meet Allisha Gray, The WNBA's Southern Superstar

By Toby Adeyemi, ESSENCE

On a weekend when all the stars of the WNBA descended on Phoenix, none shined brighter than Georgia's finest, Allisha Gray.

Gray was named an All-Star for the second consecutive year, an honor that's become regular since she was traded to the Atlanta Dream two seasons ago. When Gray received the news, she was ecstatic. "I was playing video games when I first got the call that Dallas was trading me to Atlanta, but I just remember being super happy," she tells ESSENCE.

That joy was for good reason, because Gray was finally going home—well as close to home as possible. She grew up in Sandersville, a small town in Washington County located about two hours south of Atlanta. The opportunity to play in front of her friends and family was the thing Gray was looking forward to the most.

"Playing in my home state has been a blessing," she explained. "I get to see my parents every home game. That's super exciting because I didn't have that opportunity in Texas."

All-Star Allisha Gray has found freedom and joy with the Atlanta Dream

By Wilton Jackson, The Next

ATLANTA — Allisha Gray never stops moving. Even as Atlanta Dream head coach Tanisha Wright breaks down an intricate set for a screen and the roles of each wing cutter at the top of the key, the 6' guard is already mentally scheming the movements to her spot. The veteran hopes to aid the Dream (7-17) in a game against the Las Vegas Aces that evening.

Gray's energy and passion won't allow her to be still. Those two catalysts sit at the core of her basketball DNA, along with her rich Southern accent. “The first time I met her, I said, ‘Girl, you are from the country,’” Dream guard Haley Jones told The Next.

At the right wing, Gray — donning clear protective goggles — puts the play in motion. She sets a back screen near the right elbow and cuts to the opposite elbow to field a pass from Jones. In a blink, Gray dribbles once to her left before leaping to finish the left-handed layup.

Charles makes history (again)

(July 14) — In the Dream’s outing against Seattle on July 14, Charles recorded 12 points, two rebounds, two assists and one block. She reached 400 career blocks with her block on Seattle’s Nneka Ogwu-mike. Charles is now four blocks away from No. 13 overall in WNBA history, behind Michelle Snow (404). She becomes the first player in WNBA history with at least 7,000 career points, 3,000 career rebounds, and 400 career blocks.

Tina Charles Continues to Cement her Legacy (SI)

Tina Charles is moving up the WNBA’s all-time scoring list. Friday night, the Atlanta Dream star climbed into third place on the league’s scoring list, passing Indiana Fever legend Tamika Catchings.

Charles passed Catchings in Atlanta’s game against the Dallas Wings on Friday night. She secured her spot on the all-time scoring ladder following a made layup in the fourth quarter, giving her 7,381 points. Catchings ended her career with 7,380.

Atlanta Dream rally on the road to down Connecticut Sun 78-74

(July 11) — The Atlanta Dream handed the Sun its second loss at Mohegan Sun arena as Allisha Gray and Tina Charles combined for 31 points to power the Dream to a 78-74 victory, in a game that saw 16 different lead changes and 11 ties.

Atlanta’s overall record moves to 7-9 and 4-3 on the road. Gray totaled 17 points, three assists and three rebounds, also surpassing 3,000 career points with her performance. Charles followed Gray with 14 points, six rebounds and three assists. The center tied her season high of four steals.

Allisha Gray Named 2024 WNBA All-Star

(July 11) — Atlanta Dream guard Allisha Gray has been named an AT&T 2024 WNBA All-Star for the second time in her career, the league announced today.

Gray is only the fifth player in Atlanta Dream history to earn multiple WNBA All-Star selections. The 6-foot standout guard joined the Dream before the 2023 season and has now become an All-Star in both her years in the franchise. Her bid marks the franchise’s fourth straight year with an All-Star.

This season, Gray is leading Atlanta with 15.6 points per game while shooting 40% from the 3-point line. Last week, Gray eclipsed 3,000 career points, becoming only the 86th player in WNBA history to achieve the milestone.

Gray’s 2024 season is highlighted by her performance against the two-time defending champion Las Vegas Aces, where she recorded a career-high six 3-pointers to finish with 25 points. She became only the second player in WNBA history with at least six 3-pointers and six free throws made while shooting 85% from the three and 100% from the free throw line.

She was first tabbed as an All-Star in 2023 as a reserve for Team Wilson. She went 4-for-10 from the field to finish with 10 points, two rebounds and one steal off the bench. She also participated alongside teammate Cheyenne Parker-Tyus to represent the Dream in the Skills Challenge.

Laetia Amihere to Represent Canada at the 2024 Paris Olympic Games

(July 11) — Atlanta Dream forward Laetia Amihere has been named to the 2024 Canada Women’s National Basketball Olympic Team roster, Canada Basketball announced today.

Amihere will join teammate Rhyne Howard in Paris and is the first Dream player to represent Atlanta at the Olympics in 5-on-5 women’s basketball since 2016.

“I’m excited to go into my second Olympics with more experience under my belt,” Amihere said, “It will be the first opportunity to play in front of family for Team Canada. I’m proud to be able to represent my country, my family and show all the hard work I’ve been putting in.”

While the selection marks her first time representing the Dream, it will also mark her second appearance with Team Canada at the Olympics. Prior to being drafted by Atlanta with the eighth pick in the 2023 WNBA draft, Amihere joined Canada’s 2021 Olympic squad in Tokyo during her collegiate tenure at South Carolina.

Amihere is one of seven alumni from the South Carolina women’s basketball program to compete at the Olympics, a list that includes Dream teammate Allisha Gray. She becomes the youngest Dream player to compete at the Olympics and the first-ever Canadian Olympian in franchise history.

Dream make Franchise history at State Farm Arena

(June 21) — With an official attendance of 17,575, the Dream set a franchise record against the Indiana Fever. The crowd marked its highest-ever single-game attendance, in the eighth consecutive home sellout of theseason. The crowd was the fifth largest of the 2024 WNBA season.

Charles led all scorers with a season high of 24 points, seven rebounds and two assists. The center also marked a season high in minutes played and notched the 170th 20-point game of her career. With her first offensive rebound of the night, Charles (1,063) passed Taj McWilliams-Franklin (1,062) for No. 3 all-time in total offensive rebounds.

NOTES AND STORYLINES

Gray followed behind Charles with 19 points, four rebounds and three assists. The guard is just one field goal away from 1,000 for her career and eclipsed 1,000 career rebounds.

Atlanta Dream get back on track with 87-74 win over Los Angeles Sparks

(June 16) – The Atlanta Dream defeated the Los Angeles Sparks 87-74 in its largest win of the 2024 season, led by Allisha Gray, Tina Charles and Aerial Powers as the team put on a dominant performance to bounceback from its previous two outings.

Gray led all scorers with a season high of 25 points, three rebounds and three steals. The guard shot 3-for-5 from 3-point range and 4-for-4 from the free throw line.

Charles followed with her fifth double-double of the season, finishing with 20 points, 11 rebounds, two assists and one block. Powers led the bench, tying her season high in points and rebounds with 13 points and six, respectively.

Rhyne Howard breaks WNBA history, becomes youngest player to make 200 career 3-pointers

(June 11) – With her first 3-pointer of the evening, Howard overtook Diana Taurasi for the youngest player in the history of the WNBA to make 200 career threes (6/11). Howard overtook Taurasi, Lauren Jackson, Maya Moore and Sure Bird to be the youngest to achieve the milestone at 24 years, 43 days.

Tanisha Wright named as a 2024 USA Basketball Women's National Team Scout (June 11) – Atlanta Dream Head Coach Tanisha Wright will serve as a scout for the 2024 USA Basketball Women's National Team at the 2024 Paris Olympic games, USA Basketball announced today.

The Women's National Team will pursue their eighth consecutive gold medal and tenth overall at the 2024 Paris Olympic Games. Curt Miller, head coach of the Los Angeles Sparks, will also assist as a scout for the national team. Wright and Miller join a staff of Head Coach Cheryl Reeve, and assistant coaches Kara Lawson, Joni Taylor and Mike Thibault.

"This is something as an athlete and now a coach you dream of your entire career," Wright said. "I'm excited to go and learn from some of the best athletes and coaches in the world and represent my country at the highest level."

Wright becomes the first Atlanta Dream head coach to represent USA Basketball in over a decade.

Rhyne Howard named to 2024 USA Basketball 3×3 Women's National Team

(June 5) – Atlanta Dream guard Rhyne Howard has been named to the 2024 USA Basketball 3×3 Women's National Team and will compete with the team at the 2024 Olympic Games in Paris, USA Basketball announced today.

Hailey Van Lith, all selected by the USA Basketball 3×3 Women's National Team Committee.

At 24 years old, Howard is the youngest Dream player ever to compete in the Olympics. The Kentucky graduate also will be the first alumna of the Wildcats women's basketball program on the Olympic stage.

"Being able to be an Olympian this early in my career, it's exciting and surreal," Howard told USA Basketball in April. "I'm looking forward to bringing home the gold but also coming home with the experience of 3×3 and bringing that back to the W."

Wright brings valuable USA Basketball experience to Paris, having served as a court coach for the Women's National Team at the 2024 FIBA Women's Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Antwerp, Belgium. The team achieved a perfect 3-0 record in group play at the tournament in February.

Atlanta Dream Announce Commissioner's Cup Recipient

(June 5) – The Atlanta Dream selected Helping Mamas as its recipient for the 2024 WNBA Commissioner's Cup, presented by Coinbase, the organization announced today.

The announcement marks the second-straight season the Dream will partner with the nonprofit organization. Helping Mamas elevates the well-being and dignity of women by providing diapers, period products, and other essential baby supplies.

During Commissioner's Cup play, each team will play a total of five games, one against each of its in-conference rivals. All WNBA games played during the two-week period from June 1-13 will be Commissioner's Cup presented by Coinbase qualifying games and are part of the team's 40-game schedule with the results counting toward the team's regular-season win-loss record.

The WNBA Commissioner's Cup presented by Coinbase was first introduced in 2021, and it allows the league to make charitable contributions to non-profit organizations aligned to the players' social justice work.

The team from each conference with the top record in Commissioner's Cup games will compete for a $500,000 prize pool in the Commissioner's Cup Championship presented by Coinbase, which will be played on Tuesday, June 25 at the arena of the team with the best record in Cup play. Coinbase has committed an additional $120,000 in cryptocurrency to the prize pool, which includes $5,000 for each player in the championship game.

Atlanta Dream to Host Two Indiana Fever Games at State Farm Arena, allowing a record number of Dream fans to experience sold out games

(May 16) – The Atlanta Dream announced today that the Dream's June 21 and Aug. 26 home games against the Indiana Fever will be played at State Farm Arena.

The games will feature two of the WNBA's most exciting teams with some of the league's brightest young stars, including the last three No. 1 overall picks in the WNBA draft - Rhyne Howard (Dream), Aliyah Boston and Caitlin Clark (Fever).

"Atlanta Dream fans are the best in the WNBA," said Atlanta Dream President and COO Morgan Shaw Parker. "Their passion and excitement led us to the most sellouts in the league over the last two years and has created a demand for tickets that far outpaces the supply inside our current arena, which is why we wanted to find a way to give more fans access to experience these two games. We're thrilled to work with State Farm Arena and the Atlanta Hawks to create a truly special environment."

Atlanta Dream unveil 2024 Broadcast Schedule

(May 13) – The Atlanta Dream unveiled its full broadcast schedule for the 2024 WNBA season, with all 40 regular season games available on broadcast in the region for the first time in the team's history.

Peachtree TV and Peachtree Sports Network, the new local television partners of the Dream, will air 29 games this season between the two stations. In addition to the local telecasts, the Dream will have 20 games carried nationally on ION TV, NBA TV, ESPN3 and CBS Sports Network.

As the excitement around the Dream has continued to grow, we know that only a limited number of fans can be inside the arena on a game night. Now everyone in the region can tune in and see one of the most exciting teams in the WNBA play against the biggest stars in the game," Dream President and Chief Operating Officer Morgan Shaw Parker said.

Atlanta Dream sell out season tickets, see record-high demand

(April 22) – The WNBA season hasn't started yet, but the Atlanta Dream is already seeing an all-time high demand for tickets.

The team announced that it had sold out its season ticket allotment for the upcoming season and had broken its record for single-game tickets in its limited presale.

The Dream is the second team in the history of the WNBA to sell out their season ticket allotment. The only other was the defending champion Las Vegas Aces.

"After making the playoffs for the first time in five years last season, our fans have carried that momentum into 2024. Excitement around women's sports, particularly basketball, is at an all-time high and nowhere is that felt more than here in Atlanta," Dream President and COO Morgan Shaw Parker said in a statement.

Atlanta Dream Announce Official 2024 Roster

The Dream will return seven players from the 2023 season, headlined by its All-Star talent of Rhyne Howard, Allisha Gray and Cheyenne Parker-Tyus. The trio broke a franchise record last season, with each individually scoring 600 or more points in a single season.

2023 AP All-Rookie Haley Jones and fellow 2023 draftee and Canadian National Team representative Laetitia Amihire are returning for their second seasons. Nia Coffey, who re-signed with the Dream in February, returns for her third season in Atlanta along with Naz Hillmon.

Atlanta added further depth to its 2024 roster with the additions of Tina Charles, Jordin Canada, Aerial Powers and Crystal Dangerfield. Charles and Powers were acquired in the free agency period, while the Dream traded for Canada and Dangerfield.

Dream Bolster Roster with Youth and International Experience in 2024 WNBA Draft

(April 15) – The Atlanta Dream selected forward Nyadiew Puoch with the No. 12

overall pick, guard Isobel Borlase with the No. 20 pick (second round), and guard Matilde Villa with the No. 32 pick (third round) Monday night in the 2024 WNBA Draft.

"We're super excited to be able to add these young talented players" Wright said. "We like what we've seen them do at such a young age and we expect them to grow their game into the future."

Dream games to air on Peachtree TV in coming season

(February 28) – The Dream and Gray Television announced a broadcast partnership to air the WNBA team's game on Peachtree TV and Peachtree Sports Network for the 2024 season.

Through the Gray partnership, Dream games will be available across the Atlanta market on Peachtree TV's free over-the-air broadcasts along with its carriage on all major cable and satellite pay-tv systems, including Xfinity, Spectrum, DirecTV, and DISH Network. Peachtree TV also is available on YouTube TV and Hulu Live. In addition, Peachtree Sports Network will simulcast these games, as well as additional Dream-related programming, on its television stations in Albany, Augusta, Columbus, Macon, and Savannah in Georgia.

Atlanta Dream Sign Tina Charles and Aerial Powers; Re-sign Nia Coffey

(February 1) – The Atlanta Dream have signed forward Tina Charles and guard Aerial Powers, and re-signed forward Nia Coffey, the organization announced today.

2012 WNBA MVP, eight-time All-Star and three-time Olympic Gold Medalist Tina Charles will join a young Atlanta Dream core coming off their best season in five years.

"Tina's ability to score and rebound the basketball at an elite level immediately helps this basketball team," Dream General Manager and Executive Vice President Dan Padoversaid. "Tina is a former MVP and Gold Medalist with a ton of 'big game' experience that I know will aid us throughout the course of the WNBA season."

Aerial Powers is the second former WNBA Champion to join the Dream this offseason. The 5'11" guard has averaged 10.7 points and 3.3 rebounds per game over her career and played an integral role in the Washington Mystics winning the Championship in 2019.

"Aerial is one of the most explosive wings in the WNBA and is capable of scoring in a variety of ways," Padover said.

Nia Coffey will continue her journey in her third consecutive year with Atlanta after starting 31 games last season and shooting a career-high 40.2% from three in 2023. Coffey suffered a hand-injury last August which ended her season. Coffey's defensive presence and experience played a large role in the Dream returning to the WNBA Playoffs for the first time in five years.

Atlanta Dream Trade For Guard Jordin Canada

(February 1) –The Atlanta Dream have acquired two-time WNBA Champion and two-time All-Defensive 1st Team guard Jordin Canada via trade, the organization announced today.

“Jordin is an elite playmaker in the prime of her career and a perfect addition to our team,” General Manager and Executive Vice President Dan Padover said. “Jordin adds a variety of WNBA experience and everywhere she has been she has found a way to make her team better.”

In a standout 2023 season, Canada achieved career-high averages of 13.3 points and 6 assists per game. In addition, the 28-year-old led the league in steals with 2.3 per game for the second time (2019, 2023) in her career.

NOTES FROM MOST RECENT MATCHUP:

September 19, 2024:

- » The Atlanta Dream started Jordin Canada, Allisha Gray, Rhyne Howard, Naz Hillmon and Tina Charles for the fifteenth time this season. Guard Ezinee Kalu made her WNBA with the Dream.
- » Howard, Charles, Hillmon and Gray all finished scoring in double figures. The Dream outscored the Liberty in the paint, 40-18.
- » Charles put on a historic performance for the Dream, claiming No. 1 on both the WNBA's All-Time rebound list and career double-double list. She first claimed the record for most career rebounds in WNBA history in the first quarter, passing Sylvia Fowles (4,006) with her third rebound of the night. The center then took the record for most career double-doubles in WNBA history in the third, passing Sylvia Fowles again after recording her 21st of the season, and 194th of her career.
- » Howard passed Dream owner Renee Montgomery for No. 3 in franchise history for most 3-pointers in a single season. Howard now owns spots one (99, 2023), two (85, 2022) and three (79, 2024) for most 3-pointers in a season.
- » Gray also passed Montgomery for No. 5 in franchise history for most 3-pointers in a single season, joining Howard as one of two active Dream players on the list.

QUOTES:

Wright on the night overall...
"Great playoff atmosphere. Great opportunity for us. We're thrilled about the opportunity to be in the playoffs. We do not take that for granted. It's not an easy thing to do."

Wright on the upcoming playoff series...
"I don't think anything matters at this point. The regular season is over. Everybody is 0 to 0."

Wright on Ezinne Kalu's debut for the Dream...
"She did a great job of just integrating herself, asking the right questions to be able to get out there. So, glad she got the opportunity to get some minutes, and get a feel for it. She scored her first WNBA buckets."

Charles on her historic night...
"I'm just thankful. I'm thankful to God. Thankful to be in this opportunity, thankful to be alongside this great group of women. I personally know anything that's significantly done, is not done by one person."

Charles on passing Sylvia Fowles...
"I can't take this moment without mentioning Sylvia Fowles, and just what she's meant to my career. The heights that she's reached is the reason why we're having this conversation right now."

#31 TINA CHARLES she/her

F/C • 6-4 • 192 • 12 yrs • UConn

2024 Highlights:

- » Charles put on a historic performance for the Dream against New York (9/19), claiming No. 1 on both the WNBA's All-Time rebound list and career double-double list.
- » Surpassed 4,000 career rebounds with her tenth rebound of the night against Chicago (9/17). She is now the first player ever to reach 4000+ career rebounds and 7000+ career points, and one of two players in WNBA history to reach the rebounding milestone.
- » Tied Sylvia Fowles for most career double-doubles in WNBA history with her 20th of the season and 193rd of her career against Chicago (9/17).
- » Led the Dream with her fourteenth double-double of the season and 187th of her career, totaling 23 points and 10 rebounds against Los Angeles (9/1). Scored 14 points in the first quarter, becoming the first player to finish the first quarter with 14+ points since Rhyné Howard in July 2023 against the Sparks.
- » Became the first player in franchise history to record a triple double with the first of her career against Seattle (8/28), cementing her name as only the 18th WNBA player to ever record a triple double. She also became the first player in WNBA history to record 15+ points, 15+ rebounds, 10+ assists and 4+ steals in a game.
- » Put up a season-high 28 points, eight rebounds and one assist against Indiana (8/26).
- » Advanced to No. 2 on the WNBA's All-Time Scoring List, passing Tina Thompson with a three-pointer in the fourth quarter against Phoenix (8/21). Charles has scored 7,491 points in her career. The center recorded her eleventh double-double with 12 points and season-high 17 rebounds.
- » Sunk the game winning field goal with only seconds left to play after the assist from Canada in sideline out-of-bounds action against Seattle (8/16). With her third field goal of the night, Charles also eclipsed 3,000 career field goals. She sits at No. 2 overall in WNBA history as the second player to ever reach the milestone..
- » Charles surpassed Tamika Catchings for No. 3 all-time in career points after scoring 12 against Dallas (7/5). The milestone came after Charles recorded her tenth point of the night with a driving layup.

#10 RHYNE HOWARD she/her

G • 6-2 • 175 • 2 yr • Kentucky

2024 Highlights:

- » Owns the franchise record for the most points scored by any Atlanta Dream player over a three-game span with 100 after dropping a season-high against Indiana (9/8).
- » Powered the Dream with a dominant performance against Dallas (9/6), totaling 33 points, three rebounds, six assists and one steal. She became the first Dream player since Angel McCoughtry in 2013 to put up consecutive 30+ point performances.
- » Headlined the Dream with a season-high of 31 points, with four rebounds, two steals and one assist against Phoenix (9/3). Marking the fifth 30pt+ game of her career, Howard moved to No. 2 in Dream franchise history for most 30pt+ games. She is also one of five Dream players to record two 30pt+ games in one season.
- » Passed Angel McCoughtry for No. 2 on the Dream's All-Time 3-pointers list with her third 3-pointer of the game against Las Vegas (8/30).
- » Led the Dream with a dominant 30-point night against Seattle (8/16), with three rebounds and one steal. She marked both a season-high and the fourth time in her career reaching 30+ points and is now tied for No. 2 overall in Dream franchise history for 30+ point games. She also reached her ninth career game with 25+ points, bringing her to No. 3 overall in Dream franchise history for 25+ point games.
- » Won Bronze with the 2024 USA Basketball 3x3 Women's National Team at the 2024 Paris Olympics as a first time olympian 8/5). She became the first Dream player to reach the Olympic podium since Angel McCoughtry in 2016.
- » With her first 3-pointer against Washington (6/11), she became the youngest player in WNBA history (24 years and 43 days) to reach 200 career 3-pointers, passing Diana Taurasi (24 years, 46 days).
- » Became the youngest player to record at least 20 points, 5 rebounds, 5 assists and 5 steals in a game since Swin Cash in 2003 (5/26).
